ABOUT OTTAWA UNIVERSITY

University-wide: About Ottawa University

ABOUT OTTAWA UNIVERSITY

Ottawa University is made up of people — students, faculty, administrators, staff, roommates, friends, and family, as well as buildings, classes, books, programs and services. Each aspect of the University offers something special to life on campus and provides experiences from which students can learn during their years here.

Attendance at Ottawa University is a privilege with assumed responsibilities. All members of the community share responsibility for maintaining its standards. Since we seek to live and work in a Christ-inspired community of grace and open inquiry as called for within our University mission statement, each student is responsible for contributing to and maintaining that very special community through their personal behavior, activities, and interactions with others. Such a community is only possible when students, faculty and staff are caring, respectful and honest with each other, where each is supported by others in good times and bad, and in which all of its members are prized and valued in thought, word and deed. Over the decades, the term “OU Spirit” has come to symbolize the best of this community. Behaviors and language, verbal or written, which are inconsistent with these values diminish the OU Spirit and will not be tolerated.

Every community takes upon itself certain standards and policies for its own guidance; a college community is no exception. As a co-educational, Christian liberal arts college, Ottawa University seeks to establish a campus climate that provides growth for the total person. That environment, in which total growth becomes possible, is a cooperative venture. When achieved, it is referred to as “The OU Spirit.” May its reality be yours.

Ottawa University has two residential campuses, OUKS in Ottawa, Kansas, and OUAZ in Surprise, Arizona. In addition, the University offers adult programs in Overland Park, Kansas; Phoenix, Queen Creek and Surprise, Arizona; Milwaukee, Wisconsin; and Indiana; multiple international instructional sites; as well as fully-online courses through Ottawa University Online.

The purpose of this handbook is to provide resources and informational facts to make life easier at OU. It includes general information about the programs, policies, procedures, facilities, and services at OU. The following pages identify the OU community standards as developed by those who actively participate in the community: the Board of Trustees, supporting churches, students, staff, faculty, and administration.

These are standards designed to encourage and facilitate individual and community growth. For the community to contribute to growth and life, its standards must be defined.

THE COMMITMENT TO CHRISTIAN VALUES

Ottawa University is a church-related college that believes the combination of Christian faith and liberal education is best able to promote full individual development of each student. Although the University affirms our relationship with American Baptist Churches USA, we welcome students of all faiths and denominations to the University.

OU seeks to present the Christian faith in a setting where students are free to accept or reject it, but not ignore it. Confident in the belief that all truth is of God, OU promotes an atmosphere of free and open inquiry into all aspects of knowledge.

OU seeks to help each student develop moral clarity and seriousness. The total educational program is designed to assist students in clarifying their beliefs, in determining the relationships among them, and in learning to act responsibly on the basis of these convictions.

The phrase “education for service” is a mandate for OU. The University seeks to prepare students for lives of service, and the servant ministry of Jesus Christ is upheld as the example most worthy of emulation.

THE COMMITMENT TO COMMUNITY

There is diversity among Ottawa University students. Students come from major metropolitan centers, large cities and small towns from throughout the US and around the globe. The cosmopolitan nature of the University enriches the total learning experience as students learn from each other.

Despite the great diversity of background, interests and abilities represented in the OU student body and faculty, there is a sense of community based on shared objectives and concerns. Each person finds acceptance and is valued as one who can contribute to the welfare of the total community through common academic interests and student interaction, as well as experiences enhanced and deepened by participation in lectures, common worship experiences, concerts, residence hall life, student activities, athletics, community service and activities, and more.

Opportunities for enriched learning experiences are enhanced by formal and informal programs both inside and outside of the classrooms. Programs are designed to complement the curriculum in contributing to the total development of students.

THE COMMITMENT TO THE UNITY AND INTEGRATION OF KNOWLEDGE

The academic programs at Ottawa University are designed to foster the development of the unique potential of each student. The faculty seeks to equip the students with the knowledge, abilities, appreciations, and motivations that liberate. Likewise, each academic program demonstrates a concern for the unity and integration of knowledge.

Encouraging students to assume greater responsibility for their own learning is the central focus of Ottawa University’s faculty. The faculty member’s role is that of guiding, questioning, clarifying issues, and of identifying resource materials, rather than the mere transmission of information.

Each student will experience the dimension of breadth in learning through a general education program taught in interdisciplinary seminars and in courses chosen from all three divisions of study. The major program provides each student with an intensive experience in an area particularly suited to his/her abilities and interests, as well as adding the dimension of depth to learning.

THE COMMITMENT TO STUDENTS

The unique size of Ottawa University results in many opportunities for close personal relationships between students and faculty. Special attention is devoted to the advising process. Most classes are small. Emphasis is placed upon excellence in teaching and each faculty member is committed to the importance of teaching.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF OTTAWA UNIVERSITY

With a rich history tied to the Ottawa Indians and the American Baptist Churches USA, Ottawa University is proud of its heritage and committed to honoring those who are responsible for it. From 1837 to 1855, Reverend Jotham Meeker and his wife, Eleanor, were Baptist missionaries to the Ottawa Indian Tribe in the Midwest region, which is now Ottawa, Kansas. The Meekers devoted themselves to improving the lives of the Ottawa Indians and inspiring a hunger for education and religion. After the Meekers’ deaths, the Ottawa Indians carried on the missionaries’ Christian leadership with a strong desire to educate their children.

John Tecumseh (Tauy) Jones also carried on the Meekers’ commitment to the tribe. Serving as an interpreter and Baptist minister, he was responsible for arranging a meeting between the Baptists and the Ottawa Indians, which led to the development of Ottawa University. The Ottawa Indians donated 20,000 acres for a university to ensure the education of their children. In exchange, the Baptists agreed to build and operate the school with a promise to provide free education to the Ottawa Indians. After delays due to the Civil War, Ottawa University was founded in 1865. Today, Ottawa University provides free tuition to recorded members of the tribe who are descendants of the Kansas Ottawa Indians.

The first building erected on the OUKS campus, in the spring of 1869, was destroyed by fire in 1875; however, through generous support of the community, it was rebuilt in 1876. It stands today, appropriately named Tauy Jones Hall. The first commencement was held in 1886, with the graduation of one student. Throughout the 153-year history, OUKS has enjoyed many changes and additions to become the beautiful campus it is today.

Buildings increased very slowly. The first residence hall was a wooden Victorian frame constructed dormitory known as Charlton Cottage, which housed female students. Two other private residences in Ottawa were purchased and converted to house male students.

The next major construction project was the stone building, now known as the Administration Building, which began in 1892 but was burned in 1902. John D. Rockefeller was one of those who pledged money for a gift, if Kansas residents would meet the challenge to construct and rebuild the Administration Building. By 1904, the Administration Building was completed and the University was in healthy financial shape, temporarily free of debt and had a modest endowment.

By 1914, construction on the Commons Building had begun. In 1922, Ward Science Hall was constructed with the help of contributed labor by students, staff and community. The post-World War II era saw the rapid expansion of the campus with the construction of Martin Hall as a women's residence center in 1947, the Wilson Field House in 1948, Atkinson and Behan Halls for men's residence halls in 1955, Myers Library and the Mammel Art Center in 1957, Price Hall for a men's residence hall in 1961, the University Union in 1963 (later known as the Mowbray Union), Centennial Hall for women in 1965, the University Chapel (presently known as Fredrikson Chapel) complex built in 1966 as a result of an anonymous challenge gift, Brown Hall for men's residence hall in 1968, and the Mabee Athletic Center in 1979. Behan Hall was completely renovated as a computer center in 1990, Ward Science Hall was renovated in 1992, and Atkinson Hall was renovated in 1995 to house the music and theatre departments. The Mabee Athletic Center, Martin Hall and Wilson Field House were renovated in 1999. In 2000, Bennett Hall was opened to co-ed students for residential housing. The most recent building added to the physical plant in Ottawa, Kansas, is Gibson Student Center/Gangwish Library, which opened in the fall of 2015. Myers Library was renovated into the Braves Athletic Performance Center for athletic team training and weights in fall of 2016. In 2017, renovations were finalized to the Dick Peters Sports Complex to include upgrades to the baseball and softball fields, as well as the addition of regulation tennis courts.

Athletic competition began modestly with rivals who later became nationally prominent. Ottawa University played football with both the University of Kansas and the University of Missouri during the period of 1901 and 1902 and defeated both state institutions in those years. In recent years, Ottawa's athletic participation has been with other small colleges in Kansas, Missouri and Iowa.

OU's academic quality has been stressed from the time of its founding. The University joined voluntary accreditation associations and has been a member of the regional accrediting body of the HLC continuously from its beginning. As more electives and departments were credited nationally for students, OU retained its Christian and liberal arts emphases and adapted to changing curricular needs over the years. By the end of World War II, OU began a time of curricular examinations and restructuring that placed it ahead of most similar institutions. Under the leadership of Dr. Andrew Martin, the University established a competency based set of general education requirements which stressed ability rather than simply taking courses.

In recognition of the growing demand for programs suited to the needs and learning styles of adults, the University opened its first adult campus in Kansas City in 1974. Additional campuses were opened in Arizona in 1977, Wisconsin in 1992 and Indiana in 2002.

International programs were added in 1986. Ottawa University began its first graduate program in 1987 with the addition of the Master of Arts in Human Resources. It is now also offered at the all adult campuses along with graduate programs in business administration. In Arizona, a Master of Arts in Counseling is also offered. The online Master of Business Administration program was initiated in 2001. The Master in Accountancy and the Master of Arts in Leadership were added in 2017. Campuses in Arizona and Kansas City also have Teacher Professional Education Programs, providing courses for certified teachers. In 2008, OU took programs fully-online. In 2013, the RN-to-BSN nursing program was added. Expanding the nursing program, a Master of Science in Nursing was added in 2017. An additional residential campus opened in the fall of 2017 in Surprise, Arizona, referred to as OUAZ.

Ottawa University has made a difference in the lives of hundreds of people. The alumni love and support it. It is a high quality university related to the American Baptist Churches USA, and is designed to make a positive impact on one's ability to choose and prepare for a career and for life itself.

MISSION STATEMENT

Building on its foundation as a Christ-inspired community of grace and open inquiry, Ottawa University prepares professional and liberal arts graduates for lifetimes of personal significance, vocational fulfillment, and service to God and humanity.

STATEMENT OF EDUCATIONAL PURPOSE

Since its inception in 1865, Ottawa University has sought to live out its mission in direct ways. It began with the collaboration between two American Baptist missionaries, Jotham and Eleanor Meeker, and the Ottawa Indians of Kansas to promote education and peace in a changing world. Out of this relationship, Ottawa University was born. Ever mindful of its original commitments, Ottawa University is now a comprehensive, not-for-profit, educational institution which serves students of traditional age and adult learners worldwide. Grounded by its mission, Ottawa University carries out its educational purposes through its liberal arts and professional studies programs at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Ottawa University guides learners to integrate faith, learning, and life, to gain the abilities they need to succeed and prosper, and to do so with an increased sense of the knowledge, compassion, respect, and service our world requires.

Ottawa University intends that:

1. a general education program of liberal arts studies will enable its faculty and students to investigate the world broadly and freely in order that its students will develop and express their life philosophies and values with awareness of and concern for others;
2. study in undergraduate, graduate, and other professional development programs will enable students to gain the specific expertise they need to enter professions they can contribute to; and
3. programs, teaching, and learning will continuously improve through assessment and sensitive responses to community needs.

Ottawa University's educational purposes require it to provide at all its sites:

1. diverse faculty who support the mission, purposes, and general welfare of the University;
2. caring faculty who are dedicated to teaching undergraduates in both discipline and liberal arts courses and who are sensitive to a heterogeneous body of students as persons seeking to grow spiritually, morally, and civically, as well as intellectually;
3. faculty who bring the same sensitivities and dedication to educating graduate and post-graduate students;
4. multiple approaches to teaching which assure comprehensive and varied responses to students' learning patterns;
5. appropriate academic support, environment, and technology to enhance teaching, learning, research, and communication;
6. sensitivity to different ethnicities and political configurations of the global community; and

CODE OF CONDUCT & ETHICS

University-wide: Code of Conduct and Ethics

The OUAZ Spirit Department of Athletics can be found at their offices located in Stadium Village a short drive northwest of campus.

CODE OF CONDUCT AND ETHICS

The Code of Conduct and Ethics interprets the University's Mission Statement as it applies to the everyday decisions, behaviors and actions of those within the Ottawa University Community.

GENERAL EXPECTATIONS

All members of the Ottawa University Community are responsible for sustaining the highest ethical standards of the University, and of the broader communities in which it functions. The University values honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility and strives to integrate these values into its teaching, research and business practices. It is the intent of the Code of Conduct and Ethics to protect academic freedom, a collegial atmosphere, teaching and scholarship; to advance the mission of the University; and to help preserve the highest standard of business dealings.

The Code applies to administration, faculty, staff and students; vendors, contractors, and subcontractors of the University; and to volunteers elected or selected to serve in University positions. It shall apply to conduct that occurs on University premises, off-campus teaching locations, University sponsored activities, and to off-campus conduct, ostensibly performed under University auspices, that affects the Ottawa University Community and/or the person's fitness to perform his/her responsibilities. All persons, regardless of their position, or status within the University or the community, shall be responsible for their conduct throughout their relationship with the University.

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Standards of Conduct

As you experience life at Ottawa University, your conduct should reflect a sense of personal integrity and discretion while on and off campus. Enrollment in the University will be interpreted by the University as the student's acceptance of the University's rules and regulations. Therefore, all students have a responsibility to be familiar with the documents containing standards and regulations. Actions or behaviors inconsistent with the Christian or academic traditions of the institution or unacceptable to established community standards will result in referral to a student conduct administrator.

All members of the campus community not only have the right, but also the duty and obligation to act appropriately to prevent or abate others' violations of community regulations. This duty may require those witnessing a violation to refer the information to an appropriate staff member for action.

Education for individual development is the central focus of the OU experience. The aims and objectives of the University permeate this general theme and provide the context for college regulations.

First, OU is a Christian liberal arts university. This definition particularizes the aims and expectations of the members of the University community and underlies the standards and policies of the institution. Second, there is convincing evidence that a major portion of student social and value development occurs outside the classroom. Campus regulations are designed to provide maximum opportunity for out-of-class learning and student development. Third, Ottawa University aims to sustain the kind of community life in which a student's total educational experience is deepened and enriched. The rights and responsibilities of the individual are considered within the context of the basic standards necessary to maintain a sense of community.

In this context, Ottawa University has developed clear statements of institutional standards of behavior and expectations for each student. These standards and expectations are consistent with, but distinct from, specific college regulations which are the minimum regulations necessary:

1. To maintain order and control behavior that infringes upon the freedom and privacy of other persons;

2. To maintain a way of student life that is physically and psychologically healthy;
3. To protect the University from behavior which threatens its ability to exercise its responsibility and to achieve its educational mission; and
4. To preserve satisfactory relations with the larger University constituency, so Ottawa University can marshal the necessary resources to devote attention to its primary tasks.

With this in mind, the University assumes that students are responsible members of the University community and will act in such a manner as to reflect their consideration and respect for the rights and welfare of other individuals and of the community as a whole. Students whose behavior, on or off campus, is inconsistent with the Christian or academic traditions and standards of the institution will be subject to disciplinary action. Each incident will be evaluated individually and the sanction will be appropriate for that case. The University reserves the right to impose sanctions up to, and including, dismissal from the institution.

REPORTING IMPROPER CONDUCT

The policies and procedures included in this Handbook and relevant portions of the Employee/Student Handbooks that are applicable are essential for establishing a caring, Christ-inspired community and open inquiry, which integrates faith, learning, and life. Any questions related to policy should be referred to the University Compliance Officer.

Any person having reason to believe or who reasonably suspects that any member of the Ottawa University community is engaged in a conduct contrary to any established University policy and/or procedures set forth herein, should report such conduct as quickly as possible after becoming aware of such conduct to their manager, a local unit Officer, the University Compliance Officer, or if preferred, to a source outside the University by contacting the Compliance Hotline service at 844-719-2846 or on the internet at www.ottawa.ethicspoint.com, both of which operate 24 hours/day, 7 days a week. (Emergency situations which are an urgent safety or security issue must be made directly to 911.)

If the reported conduct potentially involves management for your location, the disclosure should be made to the University Compliance Officer.

The University Compliance Officer will oversee the prompt and thorough investigation of all reports and will make every effort to protect the identity of the person reporting the improper conduct. However, the University cannot guarantee confidentiality if identification of the person is necessary to institutional or law enforcement officials for the purposes of investigating the incident. In accordance with the nature of the complaint and the findings of the investigation, the University will take appropriate, corrective action.

Infractions of any policy or procedure set forth in this Handbook can result in discipline, at the sole discretion of Ottawa University, up to and including unpaid suspension, termination of employment and dismissal from the University. In addition, any omission or misrepresentation during the course of an individual's employment (including but not limited to the application process, information regarding time worked, information associated with paid or unpaid time off, etc.) or enrollment may result in discipline.

University Compliance Officer/Title IX Coordinator

The University Compliance Officer is responsible for overseeing the process by which complaints are investigated within the University. The University Compliance Officer also serves as the Title IX Coordinator and regularly reports to the President and the Chair of the Board of Trustees the categories of complaints brought forth and makes any recommendations for change. This position is appointed by the President. The current appointment is:

COMPLIANCE HOTLINE

The Compliance Hotline is an externally managed call center independent of the University, staffed by intake specialist professionals. Individuals calling the hotline are not required to disclose who they are. This information is welcomed, however, only if a person wishes to do so. Calls are not recorded.

A person may contact the Compliance Hotline service at 844-719-2846 or on the internet at www.ottawa.ethicspoint.com.

The Intake Specialist takes notes of the conversation, summarizes the call, and forwards it to the University Compliance Officer for investigation.

The goal of the hotline, for non-emergency situations, is to have an initial response back from the University in five (5) business days, so that the caller may call the hotline back for an update to the original call. The caller is able to do this anonymously, if they choose, using the case number assigned when he/she first called the hotline. At that time the caller may be asked to provide additional information or to call back at a later date for an update.

Emergency situations are expedited and will be addressed as quickly as possible.

Student Complaint Policy

Students may submit complaints in writing to campus administration (including the president/provost) or to University level personnel including the University provost, vice presidents and the chancellor. In compliance with federal regulations as interpreted by the Higher Learning Commission (accrediting agency), the University maintains a record of complaints sent by enrolled students to the chancellor, president, vice presidents, provosts, and deans or directors of academic programs. The complaints recorded include only complaints submitted in writing and signed by a student.

No information identifying the individual(s) making the complaint is made available to the accrediting association. Students may review a record of anonymously tracked complaints that include academic grievances. The University Registrar maintains the database of formal complaints, and at least once a year, issues a report summarizing the complaints and their status. The following information is recorded in the complaint database:

- The date the complaint was formally submitted
- The nature of the complaint
- The steps taken to resolve the complaint
- The University's final decision regarding the complaint.
- External actions, if known, initiated by the student to resolve the complaint and outcome of such actions.

RETALIATION

Ottawa University prohibits retaliation in any manner against anyone who, acting in good faith, has reported a suspected violation. A person feeling retaliated against may file a written complaint with the University Compliance Officer or contact the Compliance Hotline service at 844-719-2846 or on the internet at www.ottawa.ethicspoint.com. A retaliation complaint that the University, after investigation, reasonably determines to be true will result in disciplinary action, including the possible termination of employment,

ANTI-HAZING STATEMENT

CHILDREN ON OU CAMPUSES

Ottawa University values the role of families in the lives of the employees and students of the University and has worked to develop policies, activities, and benefits that are supportive of balancing work, education and family life. It is recognized that there are times when it is necessary and appropriate for an employee/student of the University to occasionally have a child on an OU campus during work/class hours, for a period of time, as an exception to normal policy. It is expressly understood that the employee/student whose child is present is completely responsible for the safety, care and conduct of such child.

The intent of this policy is to provide guidelines related to the regular presence of a child on our campuses with the purpose of providing safe campus environments, maintaining a positive learning environment for students, and a disruption free workplace for our employees.

This policy applies to all units of the University.

For the purposes of this policy, a child is defined as a son/daughter of an employee/student (whether biological, adopted, step-child, or a child of a domestic partner), age 14 and under.

Guidelines:

1. It is the policy of the University that the regular presence of a child on a University campus, while the employee is working or the student is in class, is inappropriate. Consequently, employees and students shall not regularly bring a child with them when scheduled to work or learn.
2. An employee should not ask another employee, during scheduled working hours, to take responsibility for a child in the workplace as a part of a regular pattern or schedule.
3. A child of an employee, student, or visitor shall not be left unattended (out of the care of the parent) on University property at any time.
4. A University student providing regular childcare (as a part of an established pattern) for a child of an employee of the University shall not do so while on University property as a part of a regular pattern or schedule.
5. When an employee or student's child is participating in a special activity or University program scheduled for them, it is expected that a professional and productive work environment will be maintained. It is also expected that consideration of and safety for the child, co-workers and other campus residents will be maintained. If a child becomes disruptive, the situation must be handled immediately by the parent.
6. Any child who accompanies an employee to the University shall not be asked or permitted to perform any work on or behalf of the University or otherwise assist the employee with his/her work.
7. To prevent injury to a child and to protect equipment from damage, a child is not allowed in designated areas of our campuses where there are special risks or value (e.g., computer labs, employee computers, science laboratories, shops, studios, power plant, food service areas, mechanical rooms, any areas containing machinery with moving parts, power operated equipment, maintenance shops, physical plant garage, or any area where air quality may be compromised). Local University leaders have responsibility for defining such designated areas and should enforce these expectations.

It is the responsibility of all members of the community to implement this policy. Campus leadership is responsible for its enforcement. "Regular" presence or "pattern" will mean that the child is present frequently, or on a routine basis. The University reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to determine if a child's presence is considered a "regular" presence for purposes of this policy.

DISCRIMINATION

Ottawa University is committed to equal opportunity and does not unlawfully discriminate in the recruitment or treatment of applicants, employment opportunities, or general employment practices on the basis of race, age, sex, color, religion, ability or disability, national origin, sexual orientation, gender, ethnicity, family or marital status, or any other characteristic protected by law. For example, inappropriate jokes, offensive language or the display or use of objects or pictures that adversely reflect on a person's race, religion, sex or national origin.

Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature, when:

- Submission to the conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a condition of employment; or

ACADEMIC POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

STANDARDS OF STUDENT CONDUCT

Standards of Student Behavior

Student Conduct, Academic Honesty, and Academic Grievances

I. Academic Honesty

Academic Honesty means, at the minimum, that work submitted by a student or the taking of examinations by the student is the original work of that student. Ottawa University does not condone any form of dishonesty. Academic dishonesty includes cheating on examinations or assignments (including any attempt to give or obtain assistance in a formal academic exercise without prior authorization and due acknowledgment), using student's original work for more than one course without prior approval from the instructor; representing the work of another as one's own; plagiarism; the falsification of data, information, or citations in any formal academic exercise; providing false information to an instructor concerning a formal academic exercise, and/or supplying false information pertaining to the student's academic program. Penalties for cheating on examinations and plagiarism can be failure in the course in which the dishonesty has occurred and/or dismissal from the University.

If academic dishonesty is suspected, the instructor of the course will make recommendation to the local Academic Dean for action. The local Academic Dean will work with the instructor to seek resolution of the incident, including conference with the student to review evidence and related materials. The local Academic Dean will make the decision concerning penalties for the student accused of academic dishonest which may include failure in the course, withdrawal of semester credits, and/or dismissal from the University.

II. Academic Grievance Policy & Procedure:

Purpose and Philosophy

Ottawa University's academic grievance policy is established to create an atmosphere wherein concerns about whether or not students have been treated fairly in the academic environment can be resolved. The University endeavors to address both the letter and spirit of academic policies and procedures.

Ottawa University's philosophy concerning the academic grievance process advocates multiple and frequent interactions between students and the University. No student should hesitate to contact a faculty member or administrator to discuss any issue or concern. If a student believes that an instructor has been unfair in grading, assessing student performance, or any area affecting academic performance, the matter should be resolved either informally or formally. Initially, when and wherever possible, parties should demonstrate a full and honest effort to resolve concerns informally, with minimal intervention by the University. Historically, at Ottawa University, most problems have and can be resolved through the two sequential steps described below through "informal resolution."

Informal Resolution

Students who believe their academic success has been compromised by a faculty member or other University instructor are encouraged to take the initiative to meet with the instructor to resolve the issue in question. The student should inform his/her Adawee Advisor/Mentor of this step. More than one meeting may be required to enable either the student or instructor to gather appropriate related data or materials. Every effort should be made to resolve any concerns at this level, as instructors have ultimate responsibility for grades in the courses they teach. If the student does not accept the outcome of the meeting(s) with the instructor or should the student elect not to contact the instructor, the student should then contact his/her advisor for assistance. The student shall take this step promptly, preferably within one week of identifying the grievance. Assistance by the advisor may take a number of forms, including additional clarification to remedy miscommunication or misunderstandings. The advisor may also act as an advocate or neutral intermediary with the instructor. If matters are still unresolved to the student's satisfaction, the formal resolution policy described below is in order.

Formal Resolution

Only after significant effort has been pursued to resolve the issue through the informal process, will a formal resolution be initiated. Although each campus is a part of the overall Ottawa University system, this policy also recognizes that each campus has its own unique organization, size, needs, identity, and culture. In order to offer a consistent process as well as one that is truly responsive to all individuals, each campus will follow this grievance policy, as appropriately determined by the University and circumstances allow. Small campuses may need to modify the review process in order to serve the student effectively and in a timely fashion. The organization of the formal grievance procedure will proceed according to the general principles below:

- The procedure will be "user friendly."
- The procedure will preserve and protect the confidentiality, integrity and human dignity of all parties.
- The procedure will endeavor to ensure due process for all involved parties.
- The procedure will seek to prevent any conflicts of interest.
- The procedure will be designed to support fairness and impartiality.
- Formal grievances should be submitted in writing. The student should describe the circumstances surrounding the issue or incident and provide any evidence in support of the concern that the student has available.
- At the discretion of the local Academic Dean or his/her superior, a committee or panel of at least three University personnel will hear the case. The committee will not be authorized to make or develop University policy. The panel will typically, but not necessarily, include (1) the Academic Dean (or designee), (2) a member of the faculty and (3) a non-related student advisor. The Academic Dean will identify a committee Chair out of the three committee members.
- At the discretion of the Academic Dean, faculty members may be full-time faculty and/or adjunct faculty. As part of the process, the committee chair must ensure that members of the grievance review committee will review all aspects of the grievance in an impartial manner to allow fairness for all parties.
- The Grievance panel will function only as a body and its members will have no individual authority on the matter before the panel.
- A lack of timeliness on the part of a party will not interfere with the proper investigation of a concern or with appropriately resolving the matter in question.
- Any employee or contractor of the University who attempts, regardless of how subtly, to coerce, single out, threaten, or retaliate against a complaining party, or to discourage use of this or any other University policy or procedure may be subject to disciplinary action or termination.

Procedure

A student who wishes to pursue a formal academic grievance should submit a written formal grievance with the local Academic Dean, (if the Academic Dean was involved in the informal resolution process) within ten (10) days of exhausting the informal resolution process.

Upon receiving the formal grievance, the Academic Dean will appoint a grievance review committee as described above. The committee will contact (all communications will be via University email, although hand delivery may be done in conjunction with email) the involved parties explaining the process to be used in examining the grievance. In a timely fashion, after gathering the necessary information, the committee will begin its review of the issue. The student and faculty member will be provided an opportunity to present their individual perspectives of the circumstance either in person or in writing, and the committee will endeavor to make a decision in a timely fashion. The committee Chair will communicate the decision (in writing), to the involved parties. The chair will be responsible to maintain a log of all activities of the grievance review committee. This log will include minutes of meetings and all actions taken.

Appeal: Either party may submit a written petition to the Academic Dean or Provost (if Academic Dean served on the review committee) appealing the committee decision. This should be done as soon as possible, typically within no more than ten (10) business days after the committee decision is made and communicated to the involved parties. The Academic Dean (or Provost) will review the committee decision and gather any additional information found to be necessary for the appeal review.

Within 10 working days after completing the appeal review process, the Academic Dean will make a final decision concerning the appeal and communicate it, in writing, to the involved parties.

The decision on appeal is final. In the event that the Academic Dean is involved in the dispute, the process described above will be followed with the University Provost appointing a university official to serve as the chair of the initial grievance review committee.

ACADEMIC COMPLAINTS

In compliance with federal regulations as interpreted by the Higher Learning Commission, the University maintains a record of complaints sent by enrolled students to the president, vice presidents and campus executive officers of academic programs. The complaints recorded include academic grievances sent to any person designated by a vice president, provost or director to receive and act on grievances. The complaints recorded include only complaints submitted in writing and signed by a student. Enrolled students include students who registered for courses within the last two years from the date of receipt of the complaint unless the student has been dismissed from the University. If a student has been dismissed but an academic grievance is filed within two years, the complaint/grievance will be tracked. No information identifying the individual(s) making the complaint is made available to the accrediting association. Students may review a record of anonymously tracked complaints that includes academic grievances. The University registrar maintains the database of formal complaints and at least once a year issues a report summarizing the complaints and their status. The following information is recorded in the complaint database:

- The date the complaint was formally submitted.
- The nature of the complaint.
- The steps taken to resolve the complaint.
- The University's final decision regarding the complaint.
- External actions, if known, initiated by the student to resolve the complaint and outcome of such actions

NOTE: Within 10 days of the final resolution of the grievance, the Academic Dean (or CE) must report the details of the grievance to the University Registrar. The University Registrar will maintain an official record of all grievances filed with the University.

If the student complaint cannot be resolved after exhausting the University's grievance procedure, the student may contact their respective state agency:

Military Students

Military students have an additional option, as follows:

The Department of Defense provides the Postsecondary Education Complaint System which provides a centralized online reporting system for service members and their families to use in reporting problems with education institutions. Agency partners including the Departments of Veterans Affairs and Education are also launching online feedback tools providing a centralized system for veterans, service members and eligible family members to file student complaints.

Students can submit a complaint if they believe their school is failing to follow the Principles of Excellence through the centralized online reporting system accessed via the Department of Defense website. Examples of education-related issues may include, but are not limited to, misrepresentation or deceptive actions with regards to private or institutional loans, high-pressure recruitment tactics, false representations about degree programs, and misleading statements regarding accreditation.

The complaint system is part of the President's Executive Order establishing Principles of Excellence for educational institutions serving Service Members, Veterans, Spouses, and other Family Members; designed to empower beneficiaries to report experiences related to misleading or unfair acts or practices by educational institutions serving veterans, service members and their families.

Military-connected students using Tuition Assistance (TA) or Military Spouse Career Advancement Accounts (MyCAA) Scholarships can submit feedback at: www.militaryonesource.mil/voluntary-education/complaint. Once a complaint is received, agency staff will contact both the student submitting the complaint as well as the referenced school, working with both parties to fully understand the issue raised and seek resolution.

All verified cases will be submitted to the Federal Trade Commission's Consumer Sentinel Network accessible by over 650 federal, state and local law enforcement agencies for use in enhancing and coordinating law enforcement investigations. Appropriate cases will be referred to the Department of Justice and/or Consumer Financial Protection Bureau.

ACADEMIC WARNING, PROBATION AND DISMISSAL

A student's academic performance is monitored to assure he/she is making satisfactory progress towards graduation. Students must meet the following criteria in order to be considered to be making satisfactory progress:

Semester Credit Hours	Earned Cumulative GPA
0 - 23.99	1.60
24 - 53.99	1.80
54+	2.00

RESIDENTIAL CAMPUSES

Students who fall below the cumulative GPA criteria noted above or fail to earn 75 percent of the semester credits for which they have enrolled, will be placed on academic probation.

Students who meet the cumulative GPA criteria noted above, but whose session GPA is below a 2.00, will be placed on academic warning. Two consecutive semesters of academic warning will result in intensive advising requirements.

Students whose cumulative GPA falls below a 1.00 will be academically dismissed. Students who have been on probation and have failed to make the necessary improvements in their academic performance will be dismissed. Students may appeal dismissal decisions by petitioning the Academic Dean.

ADULT, PROFESSIONAL AND GRADUATE STUDIES CAMPUSES

Students who do not meet the criteria noted above will be placed on academic warning. Two consecutive semesters of academic warning will result in intensive advising requirements.

Students who have been on probation and have failed to make the necessary improvements in their academic performance will be dismissed. Students may appeal dismissal decisions by petitioning the Academic Dean.

Students who attempt LAS 30012 or LAS 20010 two times and do not successfully complete this initial class within those attempts, will be dismissed from the program. If the student drops the course within the add/drop period, it is not considered an attempt. Withdrawals are considered valid attempts. Students may appeal their dismissal in writing to the Academic Dean.

Students who withdraw or fail all other course enrollments in any two consecutive terms will be placed on academic probation. Failure to earn any credit in the third term for which the student enrolls will result in dismissal from the University for a period of one year. Students wishing to return must appeal in writing to the Academic Dean.

Students whose cumulative GPA falls below a 1.00 will be academically dismissed if circumstances are other than those noted in the two preceding paragraphs.

ACADEMIC REINSTATEMENT

Residential Campuses — Ottawa, Kansas; Surprise, Arizona

Depending on the original reason for the probationary status, probation may be removed as follows:

- The student may enroll in no more than 16 semester credit hours for the semester following his/her being placed on probation and must improve his/her cumulative GPA to meet the standard appropriate to the student's total semester credit hours earned. (A student on probation should consult with his/her advisor to formulate the best strategy for removing probation.)
- For two consecutive semesters, the student must earn no less than 75 percent in the semester credit hours for which he/she is enrolled.

A student who has been dismissed for academic reasons may submit a petition for reinstatement to the Office of the Registrar for submission to the Academic Dean.

A petition for reinstatement should include the following:

- A critical and thorough appraisal of the factors that were decisive in the student's academic performance.
- A presentation of evidence that the student is capable of successful college-level academic performance.
- A detailed plan indicating how the student intends to pursue his/her academic career in such a way as to avoid the situation that caused the original suspension.
- Failure to remove probation in the time allotted may result in academic suspension from the University.

Adult, Professional and Graduate Studies Campuses

A student who has been dismissed or withdrawn by action from the University may submit a petition for reinstatement to the Academic Dean. After review with the School Dean, the student will be notified whether or not the petition has been approved. The petition should include:

- The factors that led to the action.
- The learning and personal development that has been experienced since the action, that would indicate the ability to resume successful study in the University.

ACADEMIC RENEWAL

The intent of this policy is to make graduation from Ottawa University possible for students whose previous academic performance would preclude this opportunity. If the coursework was completed seven (7) or more years prior to entry/re-entry to Ottawa University and the student has a cumulative GPA below a 1.80 at the time of entry/re-entry, he/she may petition for academic renewal. This petition must be made and approved prior to entry/re-entry. For transfer students, only grades of A, B, and C will appear on the official transcript. Transfer credit accepted under this provision will be hours of credit only, with no calculation into the GPA. For students re-entering Ottawa University, all grades will remain on the transcript but grades of D and F will count in attempted and earned hours, as applicable, with no calculation for these grades into the GPA. This policy applies only to coursework from regionally accredited institutions and to degree-seeking students. Students should note that application of this policy may result in less earned hours towards graduation but will generally improve the overall GPA. However, all previous credits and grade points will be used in determining eligibility for honors.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Ottawa University believes that students who are actively engaged in their class(es) do better than those who are not (attendance is expected). Because of this, instructors record attendance for all enrolled students and student grades may be negatively impacted due to lack of attendance. This is also done for financial aid purposes, since the institution is required to verify student attendance. If it is unavoidable that a class session or coursework is missed, students are expected to do the following:

1. Contact the instructor prior to or immediately after the absence to discuss missed assignments and subsequent expectations.
2. Make-up work is at the discretion of the instructor. If make-up work is allowed, it must be turned in as stipulated by the instructor.

Attendance at an Academically Related Activity is defined by the Department of Education as:

- Physically attending a class where there is an opportunity for direct interaction between the instructor and student;
- Submitting an academic assignment
- Taking an exam, an interactive tutorial, or computer-assisted instruction;
- Attending a study group that is assigned by the institution;

- Participating in an online discussion about academic matters; and
- Initiating contact with a faculty member to ask a question about the academic subject studied in the course.

Just as important as defining what DOES qualify, is what does NOT:

- Living in institutional housing;
- Participating in the institutions meal plan;
- Logging into an online class without active participation; or
- Participating in academic counseling or advisement.

Note – a student’s certification of attendance that is not supported by institutional documentation is not acceptable to establish a last date of attendance.

In order to gain the most benefit from the attendance information and to help identify and retain students who may be experiencing difficulties, the following actions(s) will be taken by Ottawa University in the event that a student ceases to participate:

- Any student who has no attendance recorded during the first two weeks of a term will be administratively withdrawn as a no-show. All charges will be reversed and no record of the enrollment will appear on the transcript.
  - Students who are enrolled in class(es) that start beyond the first two weeks will be administratively withdrawn if they fail to participate on the first night of class.
- Ottawa University will attempt to contact any student who begins attendance in a course but has no attendance recorded for 14 calendar days in order to determine the student’s intentions.

Students who are not going to continue participating in their course(s) are encouraged to withdraw themselves at the earliest opportunity.

- Ottawa University will administratively withdraw any student who has no attendance recorded for 21 consecutive calendar days.
  - An email will be sent to the students notifying them of their withdrawal from the course(s).
  - Students whose last date of attendance is in the 5th week (or later) of an 8 week term will not be administratively withdrawn for lack of participation.
  - Students whose last date of attendance is in the 12th week (or later) of a 15 week Semester will not be administratively withdrawn for lack of participation.
- The tuition charges assessed to the student will be determined using the students reported last date of attendance in accordance with the Ottawa University refund policy.
  - Additional refund calculations may be necessary for any students receiving Federal Financial Aid.

CHEATING AND PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism means presenting, as one’s own, the words, work or opinions of someone else. Plagiarism occurs in two forms:

1. Plagiarism occurs when writers use the exact language of someone else without putting the quoted material in quotation marks and citing its source.
2. Plagiarism occurs when writers present, as their own, the sequence of ideas, the arrangement of materials, or the pattern of thought of someone else, even though they express it in their own words. The language may be theirs, but they are presenting work as their own which is the work of another. Cheating on examinations refers to any effort on the part of a student to seek or to give unauthorized assistance on an examination. The following kinds of behavior are generally considered to constitute cheating on examinations:
  - a. The possession and/or use of unauthorized books, articles or notes during an examination;

- b. Copying or attempting to copy another student’s work during an examination, with or without the student’s consent;
- c. Requesting help from or offering help to another student during an examination, whether or not the help is given or received;
- d. Any efforts (successful or not) to alter answers to examination questions after the examination has been concluded, if done in an attempt to receive credit for the altered answers;
- e. Any efforts (successful or not) to obtain unauthorized copies of an examination or of examination questions prior to their being administered by the professor;
- f. Any deliberate disobedience of the rules for a given examination as they are announced by the professor. It is often difficult for a professor, in a given course, to determine decisively whether cheating has taken place or not. There are, however, certain kinds of evidence which justify a professor’s suspicion, and these may, at the discretion of the professor, be considered an adequate basis for such a judgment. The penalty for plagiarism or any other form of academic dishonesty will be failure in the course which the academic dishonesty occurred.

Students who commit academic dishonesty can be dismissed from the University by the Academic Dean. Plagiarism/Cheating may lead to dismissal from Ottawa University. Should a student feel that s/he has been unjustly accused, s/he has the option of reviewing the professor’s decision by means of the Academic Grievance Procedure.

COURSE POLICIES, ADD/DROP

Students should consult the academic calendar for add/drop/withdrawal deadlines for any given academic year.

FINAL EXAMINATIONS POLICY

A three-day final examination period is conducted after the conclusion of each semester. During this time faculty must give the last examination of a course, whether that is a final examination, a last unit examination, or some other type of culminating or summary experience.

- Final/last examinations are not to be given during the last week of classes. All finals should be given during the final examination period.
- No regular class sessions may be held during the final examination period.

There will be no required student activities during the examination period (including study day and through the scheduled final exams).

GRADING

The University uses the following grading system to evaluate student performance:

Grade	Quality Points
A	Excellent – 4 grade points per semester credit hour earned
B	Good – 3 grade points per semester credit hour earned
C	Average – 2 grade points per semester credit hour earned
D	Below Average – 1 grade point per semester credit hour earned
F	Failure – 0 grade points earned
P	Pass – Considered to be work at C level or better; semester credit hours count toward hours earned only
IP	In Progress – 0 grade points earned
NR	Not Reported – 0 grade points earned
NC	No Credit – 0 grade points earned
AU	Audited – 0 grade points earned
W	Withdrawal – 0 grade points earned
WV	Waived – 0 grade points earned

3. A minimum of 124 credit hours
4. Major Requirements
5. Breadth Area Requirements
6. Skills Competency Requirements

GRADUATION HONORS

The Latin designation for honors refers to the medieval origins of academic ceremony: cum laude indicates distinction; magna cum laude, great distinction; and summa cum laude, highest distinction. At Ottawa University, students achieve a 3.50 to 3.799 grade point average (on a 4.00 scale) to graduate cum laude. Magna cum laude honors require a 3.80 to 3.899 grade point average. For the highest honors, summa cum laude, students must achieve a 3.90 or higher grade point average. Distinction in the comprehensive examination or project may be earned by students at the OUKS campus as judged by faculty.

NAME/ADDRESS CHANGES

Name and address changes should be submitted to the campus registrar or their designees. Students requesting name changes on university records must provide official documentation. The campus registrar accepts the following documentation:

- Valid Driver's License
- Marriage License
- Divorce Decree
- Court-approved Name Change
- State-issued Identification Card
- Social Security Card

REPEATING COURSES

Students wishing to improve their grade point average may repeat a course in a subsequent semester. The last grade earned replaces the first grade earned. The last grade is used in determining the grade point average. All courses taken at Ottawa University remain on the transcript.

TRANSCRIPTS

Official transcripts are issued only by the University's Office of the Registrar. They are printed on security paper and conform to guidelines established by the American Association of College Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO).

Transcripts will not be issued until the original, official, signed grade lists corresponding to the courses noted have been received by the University's Office of the Registrar or grades are posted by faculty via MyOttawa.

Students and former students must request at:

www.ottawa.edu/transcript

A $10 charge is assessed for electronic transcripts; $15 for mailed transcripts. Additional fees are charged for rush orders. Transcripts are normally processed within three to five business days after receipt.

WITHDRAWAL FROM THE UNIVERSITY

In the event a student withdraws from or drops hours enrolled at the University, a refund of charges paid may be due subject to the current campus refund policy. There is a specific procedure to follow in order to withdraw from the University. The student must initiate the request to withdraw by contacting their Adave Advisor/Mentor who will then work to determine if an intervention team is needed to evaluate the reason for the withdrawal. In the event the withdrawal is completed, the Adave Advisor/Mentor will facilitate the process by ensuring that all necessary student service departments are notified in order to provide guidance to the exiting student as needed.

Refund calculations will be determined by following the residential campus refund policy. Refunds are based on the amount of time elapsed in the term. Please check with the Office of Financial Aid or Chief Operating Officer/Business Office for further information.

THE FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT PURPOSE

Annually, Ottawa University informs students of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), as amended. This act, with which the institution intends to comply fully, was designated to protect the privacy of education records, to establish the rights of students to inspect and review their education records and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data through informal and formal hearings. Students also have the right to file complaints with FERPA concerning alleged failures by the institution to comply with the act. FERPA affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. They are:

- The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a request for access. Students should submit a written request to the academic dean, associate dean, registrar, or other designated official that identifies the record(s) to be inspected. The University official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the University official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall refer the student to the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.
- The right to request amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading. Students may ask the University to amend a record they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the University official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the University decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his/her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.
- The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception, which permits disclosure without consent, is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is defined as a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic, research, or support staff position (including law enforcement personnel and health staff). An official is also a person or company with whom the University has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor or collection agent). A school official is a person serving on the Board of Trustees or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his/her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record to fulfill his/her professional responsibility.

- The right to file a complaint with the United States Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Ottawa University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:
Family Policy Compliance Office
U. S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, D.C. 20202-5901
800-872-5327

The University discloses education records without a student's prior written consent under the FERPA exception for disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities. A school official is defined as:

- A person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff and coaches).
- A person or company with whom the University has entered into a contract or agreement to provide a service instead of using University employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor, collection agency, National Student Clearinghouse) to perform said service.
- A member of the Board of Trustees.
- A student serving on an official committee or assisting another school official in performing his/her tasks (including student tutors).

The items listed below in Categories I, II and III, are designated as "directory information" and may be released for any purpose at the discretion of our institution. Under the provisions of FERPA, students have the right to withhold the disclosure of any or all the categories of directory information. Consider carefully the consequences of any decision to withhold any category of directory information, however, as future requests for such information from non-institutional persons or organizations will be refused. Ottawa University will honor a request to withhold any of the categories listed below but cannot assume responsibility to contact you for subsequent permission to release them. Regardless of the effect upon the student, the institution assumes no liability for honoring a student's instruction that such information be withheld.

Category I:

Name, address, telephone number, and email address of student and parent. Dates of attendance, classification, class lists, and photographs.

Category II:

Previous institution(s) attended; major field of study; awards, honors, degrees conferred (including dates).

Category III:

Past and present participation in officially recognized athletics and activities; physical factors (height, weight of athletes); date and place of birth. Additional information on policy and procedures may be found in the student handbook and/or in the Office of the Registrar.

MILITARY DEPLOYMENT

Ottawa University is committed to providing quality education and support to members of the military community. We recognize that military life is often unpredictable and there may be times when military obligation interferes with a student's ability to complete courses.

The following options exist for students called to active duty or deployed from their normal duty stations during an academic term/semester. Routine trainings and field exercises are NOT considered deployments under this policy.

Course Drops

- Standard academic policy will be followed for students deployed during the published drop period for the term/semester.
- Students may drop courses during the stated periods without incurring any charges. Dropped courses will not appear on the student's transcript.
- Students are responsible for completing the Course Drop Form through the student portal, no additional documentation is required.
- Service members using Federal Tuition Assistance must also notify their branch's Education Office.

Withdrawal After Drop Period

- Note: The option to withdraw after 75% of the term/semester (Week 6 for 8-week terms and Week 11 for semesters) is only available to students under this policy.
- Transcripts will indicate the withdrawal was due to Military obligation as a transcript note.
- The standard refund policy for the term/semester, found in the University Catalog, will be followed. The institutional refund policy for drops/withdrawals from scheduled courses is based on the student's Last Date of Attendance in the given course.
- Students using Federal Financial Aid need to be aware that upon withdrawal of all credits in a given term, Federal and Institutional refund calculations will be completed and pending financial aid disbursements canceled. Students should contact the Director of Financial Aid at 602-749-5120 with any questions regarding the Federal Financial Aid refund process.
- Service members using Federal Tuition Assistance must also notify their branch's Education Office.
- Required Documentation: students must submit a copy of deployment/mobilization orders and a signed copy of the Ottawa University Military Deployment Policy within 5 business days to their Academic or Adawee Advisor, who will notify the VA Certifying Official and the Registrar.
  - Documentation signed by student's Commanding Officer may be accepted if orders are unavailable.

No Credit (NC) Option

- A grade of "NC" may be assigned by the instructor when a student has participated in at least 51% of a term/course.
- For a grade of "NC" to be changed to a letter grade, the student must successfully complete all course requirements as determined by the instructor of record.
  - Sole responsibility for completing and submitting class requirements belongs to the student.
  - If the grade of "NC" is not changed by the instructor within one calendar year from the end of the original course, the "NC" will become a permanent part of the student's academic record.
- Students using Federal Tuition Assistance through the Military need to be aware of the policy for their Branch of Service regarding the replacement of incomplete (No Credit) grades.
  - Army & Air Force: within 120 calendar days of course end date
  - Navy, Marine Corps & Coast Guard: within 6 months of original course completion date
  - Service members using Federal Tuition Assistance must also notify their branch's Education Office.
  - Required Documentation: students must submit a copy of deployment/mobilization orders and a signed copy of the Ottawa University Military Deployment Policy within 5 business days to their Academic or Adawee advisor, who will notify the VA Certifying Official and the Registrar.

STANDARD COURSE POLICIES

Prerequisite Advisory

Please be advised that Ottawa University students are responsible to have completed all course prerequisites necessary for each course prior to participating in said course. Not completing required prerequisites may negatively impact his/her ability to successfully complete this course.

Ottawa University Student Email

Ottawa University email is the official account to be used for email communication. It is the responsibility of the student to check his/her email account on a regular basis for the duration of his/her enrollment. Failure to read one's email will not be a valid excuse for lacking information that has been communicated via email. In addition, any campus emergencies will be announced via the Ottawa University email system. If you are encountering difficulties with your email, please contact OU Help at www.ottawa.edu/ouhelp. The OU Help technical support team is available 24/7/365.

Drop/Withdrawal

Students who wish to withdraw from a course must do so by contacting their Adave Advisor/Mentor. Notifying the instructor does not constitute initiation or completion of the withdrawal process. Students are strongly encouraged to officially withdraw from any course as quickly as possible once the decision to not complete has been made. Students who withdraw from a course (with or without participation) after the course has started will be obligated for a percentage of the tuition according to the percentage of class meetings that have been held. Students cannot voluntarily withdraw from courses after six (6) weeks of the term. A grade of "W" will appear on a transcript for any withdrawal initiated after the add/drop period; a "W" has no negative effect on GPA but may impact Satisfactory Academic Progress. Failure to continue as an active participant and turn in assignments in a timely fashion without formal withdrawal may result in a grade of "F". Repeated failures/withdrawals may result in probationary or dismissal actions.

Submission of Digital Files in Blackboard

File Types

Blackboard can accommodate the following file types – docx, pdf, rtf, pptx, xlsx, mp4, mp3, gif, jpg, and png.

Naming Your Files

Begin filenames with student's last name, followed by descriptive text. For example: Smith_Case_Summary2.docx. Do not use any of these symbols in the file name: # % $ ' & * [ ] /, as they can cause problems in Blackboard.

Blackboard Technical Support

The Resource Room in Blackboard contains links to student tutorials for learning to use Blackboard, as well as information about who to contact for technical support. OU offers 24/7 technical support for all students, staff and faculty at no cost. See www.ottawa.edu/ouhelp for contact information.

Library Resources and Information Literacy

A rich array of library resources is available through the Library tab on Blackboard or the Gangwish Library Online link on the MyOttawa portal. Databases, writing resources, a virtual librarian, interlibrary loan, and more can be found there. OU is dedicated to helping both faculty and students effectively utilize library resources. Each database in the Gangwish Library collection offers a tutorial for its use. Additionally, an online tutorial regarding research is available for all academic disciplines. Please contact one of the University librarians with questions or for research support.

Classroom Conduct

The University has developed clear statements of institutional expectations and standards related to student behavior and conduct. Ottawa University assumes that students will behave in a responsible manner when attending or participating in course-related activities. Therefore, students must act in such a manner as to reflect consideration and respect for honesty and the rights and welfare of fellow students, faculty and of the community as a whole. The University reserves the right to impose sanctions up to and including expulsion from the course or institution when behavior is dishonest, disruptive, threatening, or in any way compromises the productive educational environment, as determined by Ottawa University.

Sensitivity and Confidentiality

It is intended that the professor and all learners will maintain an atmosphere of safety and freedom in order for all to feel comfortable in expressing ideas and reactions. It is imperative that everyone is respectful of one another and mindful of differences during discussion periods. While there may be disagreements about topics of discussion, it is expected that students use critical thinking in expressing opinions, as well as listen to others with respect and an eagerness to consider alternative viewpoints. If at any time during the course, a student feels unable to express him/herself or to participate fully, the student should make an appointment with the professor to discuss the situation. At times in the educational process, certain subject matter may be emotionally difficult or offensive to some learners. If a learner believes that a class activity may be personally disturbing, s/he should notify the instructor in advance to obtain a substitute assignment.

Statement on Diversity

Diversity is defined as that incredible and beautiful variety of personal identities, experiences, values and world views that result from differences of origin, culture and circumstance. Ottawa University defines and appreciates diversity in all of its forms including age, ability or disability, ethnicity, national origin, race, religion, sex, gender, sexual orientation, and family and marital status. Ottawa University celebrates and prizes the diversity of its students, faculty, staff and Board of Trustees. In keeping with its mission statement, the University is called to actively foster an environment of awareness, appreciation and intentional inclusivity. We hold this as essential in an institution, which declares that it will conduct its affairs in a caring, Christ-inspired community of grace and open inquiry. We believe we must embrace diversity because to do so is just, powerful, personally enriching, and intelligent and because we believe Christ has called us to do so through His teachings and example.

Commitment to a campus free of discrimination, sexual harassment and violence.

Ottawa University is committed to creating and fostering a learning and working environment based on open communication and mutual respect. This is an integral part of the University's academic mission to enrich our students' educational experiences. If you have been the victim of or if you encounter sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, sexual assault, or discrimination based on race, color, religion, age, ethnicity, national origin, ancestry, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, family/marital status, ability/disability, or any other area protected by law, we encourage you to report this. If you report this to a faculty or staff member, she or he must notify our University's Title IX Coordinator about the report. For more information about your options, please go to www.ottawa.edu/sexual-misconduct or please contact the Title IX Coordinator at 785-248-2326 or at carrie.stevens@ottawa.edu.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

Students who desire to receive instruction in a particular academic division without being a candidate for a degree are welcomed at Ottawa University. They may enroll for semester credit hours in regularly scheduled courses on a space available basis. Please check with your campus for any special conditions regarding tuition rates or semester credit limitations that may apply. Special students are not eligible to receive Title IV federal financial aid.

BUSINESS OPERATIONS

Ottawa University Accounts Receivable (OUAR) Office

The OUAR office, located on the 1st floor of the Administration Building in Ottawa, Kansas. It administers all student account functions for the University. This includes student account inquiries, payments, and financial planning. The OUAR office also processes student account refunds and can assist in setting up student refund methods with Heartland-ECSI.

Financial Clearance

To be considered financially cleared, a student must have a method of payment established and agreed upon with Ottawa University or have the balance paid in full by the campusstated deadline.

This can be completed by:

- Paying the balance in full upfront;
- Having a third party pay tuition and/or fees - verification of the agreement with invoicing instructions must have been submitted to the Accounts Receivable office;
- Receiving federal financial aid - FAFSA, Master Promissory Note, Loan Request, Entrance Counseling, as well as any verification documents needed if selected for verification. These documents must have been received by the University by their deadline date;

- Establishing a Tuition Management System (TMS) payment plan- the plan must have been created on the TMS website with the enrollment fee paid by the deadline date (OUKS or OUAZ) ; and/or
- Getting approval for a need based internal payment plan signed off by financial advisors, campus managers, and/or the Account Receivable office.

SEMESTER

Student account balances are due the first Friday of August for the Fall term, and the first Friday of January for the Spring term, unless other arrangements have been made with OUAR or the student has set up a payment plan with Tuition Management Systems (TMS). Any student that is not financially cleared by these deadlines will not be eligible to move in to ON-campus housing and any athlete will not be allowed to participate in any team activities until the account has been resolved.

8-, 4- or 3-WEEK TERM

All tuition and fees have to be paid in full by 5:00 p.m. CST on the second Monday of the term. See details above for payment options.

A student may be administratively dropped if the student is not financially cleared by the clearance deadline. There will be no reinstatements for students that have been dropped due to financial clearance.

Financial Holds

Any account that is not financially cleared will be subject to a financial HOLD which will prohibit any changes in registration from being made. In addition, any unpaid balance will prevent diplomas and transcripts from being released to the student.

Unpaid Balances

Any student that owes an outstanding balance to Ottawa University, due to failed payments or defaulting on other financial arrangements throughout the term, may forfeit the privilege of attending class and the University has the right to withhold grades, transcripts and diplomas until the financial obligation is met. Any student that has an outstanding balance at the close of a semester will be placed on a financial HOLD, which will prevent registration in future terms until the account balance is paid in full.

Student Account Balances

Students with outstanding balances are sent to collections if payment is not met in the agreed upon time frame. Penalties for collection of an unpaid balance on a student account may be assessed up to 40 percent of the unpaid balance due.

Book Advances

Book Advances are offered to all students purchasing books in the OU Bookstore. $600 will be available to each student at the Bookstore POS and can be used to cover the cost of books and supplies for their registered courses. These Advances are then applied to the student accounts and any balance not covered by financial aid is due to be paid, by the student, by the following deadlines:

Fall Semester – October 15

Spring Semester – March 15

Credit Balance Refunds

OUAR begins processing refunds on the 2nd Friday of the semester and continues daily through the end of Week 3. After Week 3, refunds will be processed on Tuesday and Thursday as additional aid is disbursed, creating credit balances.

Accounting Office

The Accounting Office, located on the 2nd floor of the Tauy Jones Hall in Ottawa, Kansas, administers the student ONE Card, and provides cash advances for student organizations with advance notice. This office also handles all employee services such as p-card and expense report processing, dining memberships, Wal-mart card checkout, and other services.

Institutional/Student Debts

Institutional: No student is allowed to contract any debt for any student organization without approval from the faculty/staff advisor, at least two of the organization's officers, and the Student Activities Coordinator. Specific guidelines for receiving student organization funds may be obtained from the Office of Student Affairs.

Personal: Insufficient funds (NSF) and unpaid debts in a community reflect negatively upon the student and the University. A student may be prosecuted for NSF. If NSF or nonpayment become habitual, the student will face disciplinary action by the University.

A student who owes an outstanding balance to the University may forfeit the privilege of attending class and the University has the right to withhold grades, transcripts and diploma until the obligation is met. A student who has an outstanding balance at the close of a semester will not be permitted to register for the next semester until the account is paid. In addition, any outstanding balance is subject to collection efforts by an outside collection agency.

Institutional Refund Policy

The institutional refund policy in effect when a student drops a single course or completely withdraws from all courses during a period of enrollment is based on a combination of the student's location, last date of attendance (LDA) and (where appropriate) the length of the course. Room and Board charges are assessed using the vacate date and the following refund schedule.

Ottawa University will consider a student actively enrolled for course(s) unless notified in writing by the student that s/he has withdrawn. Students who stop participating may be administratively withdrawn in accordance with the University Attendance Policy.

Withdrawal procedures vary by location. Students should consult with their Academic Advisor, the Adawe Life Plan Center, or the Registrar's office for more information.

Expenses, such as Tech fees, Student Benefit fees, Course fees, etc. are non-refundable.

Students Attending a Residential Campus

Financial Aid students who fail to continue participating in an academically related activity before 60% or more of the calendar days have elapsed in any period of enrollment may be determined to have unofficially withdrawn if they are assigned a grade of F, NC or I. the Federal R2T4 calculation will be processed as though the student had withdrawn and any required refunds will be returned to the appropriate Federal program(s). Because the student did not officially withdraw, the institutional charges may not be reduced and any resulting return of funds can/will result in a balance due the University. For this reason, students are strongly encouraged to officially withdraw from any class as quickly as possible once the decision to not complete has been made.

Additional Refund Calculations

Additional State and Federal refund policies may apply. Federal refund calculations will be calculated for financial aid recipients who withdraw from all courses. Security also escorts OU students, faculty, staff or guests who are found in unauthorized locations out of that location. If students need access to a facility, arrangements must be made in advance with the Facilities and Plant Operations office to gain proper authorization. The residence halls are locked 24 hours a day and can be accessed with a key or student ID card by residents of each hall. A security phone is located in the foyer of each hall for emergencies and to allow guests to contact residents.

OU has a security committee comprised of faculty, staff and students who meet regularly to discuss various campus safety issues.

Ottawa University employs staff members to patrol campus on foot as well as in University vehicles. OU security officers contact the local law enforcement officers when local, state or federal regulations are violated or when their assistance is appropriate.

Security officers are responsible for:

- promoting a safe environment on campus,
- upholding all University rules and regulations,
- locking and unlocking buildings as directed,

Missing Residential Student Policy

Ottawa University takes student safety seriously. The following policy and procedure has been established to assist in locating students living in University-sponsored and owned housing who, based on facts and circumstances, are reported to be missing. Anyone who believes a student to be missing based on changes in their usual routine should notify the Dean of Student Affairs at their campus or the University Provost.

You may contact the appropriate party as follows:

OUAZ

Dean of Student Affairs (OUAZ) Alan Boelter	623-233-7611
President (OUAZ) Dennis Tyner	623-233-7549

OUKS

Dean of Student Affairs (OUKS) Donna Washington	785-248-2317
President (OUKS) Reggie Wenyika	785-248-2353

For purposes of this policy, a student is determined to be missing when for more than 24 hours, without any known reason, that the reported information is credible, and that circumstances warrant declaring the person missing. Each and every report will be investigated once it has been determined that the student is missing.

A student who wishes to identify a confidential contact may do so through Student Affairs. Students shall be given the opportunity to register confidential contact information by completing and submitting the Student Confidential Contact Form to the Dean of Student Affairs. A student's confidential contact information shall be accessible only by authorized campus officials and will not be disclosed except to law enforcement in connection with a missing person investigation. Upon a determination that a student is missing this confidential contact person will be notified.

If the student who has been determined to be missing is under 18 years of age and not emancipated, Ottawa University will notify a custodial parent(s) or guardian(s) within 24 hours of determining that the student is missing, in addition to notifying the confidential contact person designated by the student. Ottawa University will notify the local law enforcement agency within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing, unless the local law enforcement agency was the entity that made the determination that the student is missing.

Nothing in this policy/protocol is intended to preclude Ottawa University from determining that a student is missing before the student has been missing for a full 24 hours or initiating notification procedures as soon as it determines that the student is missing.

COMPUTING FACILITIES

As part of its mission to provide the highest quality education possible for the development of individual students, Ottawa University provides academic computing facilities. The opportunities that these facilities offer are essential in helping teachers assist students in their learning and in helping students take charge of their own learning so they may prepare for their careers and future lives. Wireless internet access is now provided to all University students, faculty, staff, and visitors. For more details on accessing OU's wireless internet, please contact the OU Help at extension 12500 or 855-268-4357. As a Christian liberal arts college, OU seeks to establish a climate that is conducive to the growth of all its individual members. It, therefore, states standards and responsibilities that all members of its community are expected to uphold. General principles of responsibility, consideration and respect for the rights and welfare of other individuals and of the community as a whole apply to the use of computing facilities as well.

General Principles

1. Computing facilities are provided by the University for the use of students, faculty, staff, and in some circumstances, the public. Access may be given to stand-alone microcomputers or minicomputers on the local area network or to computers connected to the Internet.
2. Student access is primarily for use in association with a course of study and activities related to that course.
3. Faculty and staff are given access for use as part of their duties, whether academic or administrative. The University holds the right to forbid or restrict use of its computing facilities for "for profit" enterprises.
4. Certain other members of the public may be given access at the discretion of the University.
5. It is expected that all users will make use of University computers in a manner that is ethical, legal and not to the detriment of others. The basic guidelines are that any use must be legal and not to the detriment of use by others.
6. A person in violation of this policy may be subject to administrative action, with a penalty of fine, restitution for services used or loss of computer privileges. Some actions covered by this policy are also covered by University regulations or policies, the violation of which could lead to academic or conduct proceedings. Some actions covered by this policy are also covered by city, state, or federal law, the violation of which could lead to civil or criminal prosecution.

3. Users must be aware of the law of copyright as it affects computer software. Software must not be copied except with the express permission of the copyright owner.
4. Users must respect the privacy of others files. Just because a file can be read does not mean that users may read a file. Files belonging to individuals are to be considered private property. Under no circumstances should anyone alter a file that does not belong to them.
5. Users may not attempt to copy information belonging to other users (whether faculty, staff, students or other users) without their express permission.

Staff Rights and Responsibilities

In the normal course of system administration, the computing staff may have to examine files, mail, and printer listings to gather sufficient information to diagnose and correct problems with system software, or to determine if a user is acting in violation of the policies set forth in this document.

Internet Access

Because Internet access also means connection to resources beyond our campus, it complicates rules and regulations for use. The following apply:

1. Students must have current anti-virus software, that scans for viruses on a daily basis, installed on their computer in order to gain access to the Internet connectivity.
2. Users may not use any University Internet or computer account that was not assigned to them by Ottawa University, unless authorized multiple access for the account. Users may not try in any way to obtain a password for another's Internet or computer account.
3. Users may not use any Internet or computer account to gain unauthorized access to remote computers.
4. Users may not deliberately perform any act that may seriously damage or interfere with the operation of any computer, terminal, peripheral, local area network, or high-speed backbone network.
5. Users may not install or run on any of OU's computers or computer systems or give to another any program which could result in eventual damage to a file or computer system. This includes, but is not limited to, programs known as computer viruses, Trojan horses, and worms.
6. Users may not attempt to circumvent data protection schemes or uncover security loop holes.
7. Users must abide by the terms of all software licensing agreements and copyright laws.
8. You may not deliberately perform acts that are wasteful of computing resources. These acts include, but are not limited to, sending mass mailing or chain letters, obtaining unnecessary output, creating unnecessary multiple jobs or processes, or creating unnecessary work traffic.

9. The following types of information or software cannot be placed on any Internet computer or computer system on-campus or on any computer off campus where such information or software is accessed through the use of an Ottawa University provided Internet or computer account:

  - That which consists of any advertisements for commercial enterprises.
10. Users may not harass others by sending annoying, threatening, libelous, or sexually, racially or religiously offensive messages.
11. Users may not attempt to monitor another user's data communications, nor may users read, copy, change or delete another user's files or software, without the express permission of the owner.
12. Users may not use an Internet or computer account for work not specifically authorized for that account. A University-funded account may not be used for personal financial gain.
13. Users may not play games using any computer or computer system owned by OU, unless for instructional purposes as specifically assigned by a professor, or unless the University has installed and authorized a game on its local area network. Recreational use of Internet accounts may result in suspension of account privileges.

Academic Computing Rules

1. Computing facilities are only for the support of instruction, academics and research of Ottawa University.
2. Computer usage related to assigned course activities will be given priority. Students, staff and faculty have precedence over other users. Unwillingness to comply is a violation.

DRESS CODE

Specific types of dress and grooming are a matter of individual taste, but students must use discretion in their appearance. Faculty members do have the right to set dress codes for their own classrooms and all University personnel have the right to request adjustments by individuals whose apparel is considered inappropriate. Shirts and shoes are required in all dining facilities.

FINANCIAL AID

The following information is correct at the time of printing and is subject to change. Ottawa University is committed to providing assistance to any student pursuing financial aid to help cover his/her educational costs. To accomplish this mission, the Office of Financial Aid offers a variety of aid, including scholarships, grants, student and parent loans and work study. The types of aid available vary by student and each award package attempts to meet a student's direct demonstrated financial need through the use of all forms of assistance (federal, state and institutional).

The Office of Financial Aid assists a large percentage of Ottawa University students. Consideration that is fair and equitable can only be given after the student has submitted the proper application(s) to determine eligibility. A copy of the Awarding Policy outlining the institutional methodology for awarding funds is available from the Office of Financial Aid. Students are urged to apply well in advance of registration dates as processing may require several weeks. The priority application deadline for filing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is March 15th of each year for the following fall semester. Applying by this deadline will ensure the student of consideration for all types of aid. Additionally, students must promptly respond to requests for additional documents and forms to allow the staff in the Office of Financial Aid time to process their applications.

Ottawa University reserves the right to review or modify a student's financial aid award at any time due to changes in enrollment or housing status, new, conflicting or incorrect information, human error or availability of funds. Financial aid offered through the University is made in good faith, but may be cancelled or reduced if funds become unavailable.

Basic Consumer Information:

Pursuant to federal regulations, students may obtain basic consumer information about Ottawa University by contacting the Office of Financial Aid. Please refer to the Ottawa University catalog (www.ottawa.edu) for a list of information available.

Types of Financial Assistance:

Institutional Aid

At the residential campus, Ottawa University offers a program of institutional merit scholarships, need-based grants and constituency awards. Institutional financial aid is gift aid, which does not need to be repaid. Certain awards may include criteria for their retention. Contact the Office of Financial Aid for information on retaining institutional aid.

State Aid

State aid includes the State of Kansas Scholarship programs and the Kansas Comprehensive Grant, a need-based grant for Kansas residents. Completing a FAFSA by the priority deadline of March 15th is essential to qualify.

Federal Aid

Ottawa University participates in the Title IV federal aid program. Federal financial aid includes:

- Federal Pell Grant
- Federal Supplemental Education Opportunity Grant (SEOG)
- Federal Work Study
- Federal Direct Student Loans (subsidized and unsubsidized)
- Federal Perkins Loan
- Federal Parental Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS)
- Federal Graduate PLUS Loan for Graduate Students (GPLUS)

Students must complete a FAFSA to qualify for federal financial aid. Based on financial need as determined by federal methodology, an eligible student may qualify for some or all of the Title IV aid elements listed above.

Some federal programs have limited funding and completing a FAFSA early is essential to ensure availability of funds.

Although often a student must borrow through federal and private loan programs to help fund his/her education, use common sense. Borrow for your education, not your lifestyle. Be aware of the total amount of money you have borrowed. The Office of Financial Aid can provide you with this information. Remember that all student loans must be repaid. Look for alternatives, such as on or off-campus work or outside scholarships and grants, to help enhance your finances.

Financial aid may not exceed a student's Cost of Attendance (COA). If gift aid from all sources exceeds direct billable charges, Ottawa University awards and scholarships will be reduced. No student may receive institutional aid beyond the cost of tuition.

Summer School

Because most financial aid eligibility is divided between the fall and spring semesters, funding for summer school is limited. OU institutional aid is not available, although some federal aid may be.

Students may be eligible for additional Federal Direct Student Loan money if they have increased a grade level from freshman to sophomore or from sophomore to junior, or if they have declined a portion of their Direct Loans during the fall and/or spring semesters. Students should check with the Office of Financial Aid early about their plans for summer school, so we may offer advice on your funding options.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

Students must maintain an adequate rate of progress toward graduation as defined below. All periods of student's enrollment will be evaluated after the Spring II enrollment period (e.g. May).

This rate of progress is measured using two criteria: Grade Point Average (GPA) and Maximum Time Frame (MTF). Students who fail to meet the Satisfactory Academic Progress will not be eligible to receive Title IV Federal Financial Aid until the minimum eligibility criterion are met or until the student has had an appeal approved by the Director of Financial Aid (see below for more information on appeals).

Grade Point Average

Students must meet the following GPA criteria. Progress measurements for the students GPA are based on a 4.0 scale and are reflective of all credits attempted by the student, including credits that are accepted for transfer toward the students Ottawa University program of study.

0-23.99	1.60	0-6	2.0
24-53.99	1.80	7-12	2.50
54+	2.0	13+	3.0

Maximum Time Frame

Maximum Time Frame (MTF) is defined as 150 percent of the program length measured in credit hours attempted. An undergraduate student who needs 128 credit to graduate must do so within 192 credit attempts. Likewise, a Graduate student who need 36 credits to graduate must do so within 54 credit attempts. A student will lose eligibility for financial aid once it is determined that s/he is mathematically incapable of completing their program of study within the defined maximum time frame.

Undergraduate, Teacher Certification and Graduate Students will be placed on a Financial Aid suspension if they fail to meet the minimum time frame requirement as shown below.

Calculation example: If an Undergraduate student attempts 40 cumulative credits at the time of measurement, s/he must have earned at least 24 credits (40 X 60% = 24) toward the program completion.

Total # Undergrad. Credits Attempted	Minimum MTF	Total # Grad. Credits Credits Attempted	Minimum MTF
0-29.99	50%	0-12	50%
30-53.99	60%	13+	66.7%
54+	66.7%

Incompletes, F's, NC's (no credits), and withdrawals are considered credits attempted but not earned. Grade changes and updates of incomplete and no credit grades would constitute re-evaluation and would be reflected in the new hours earned and/or hours graded total.

Transfer Credit

For the purposes of measuring satisfactory academic progress, all transfer credits accepted toward the student's Ottawa University program of study will be used in calculating the Ottawa GPA and MTF.

Appeals

Students have the opportunity to appeal the loss of federal financial aid eligibility by submitting a written appeal to the director of financial aid (or designee). Appeals should include information and supporting documentation regarding why the student failed to make SAP (e.g. death of a relative, injury or illness of the student or some other special circumstance) and what has changed in the student's situation that would allow the student to successfully complete the program of study.

The student should also provide details of what steps will be taken to prevent further SAP issues. The decision by the Director of Financial Aid (or designee) will be communicated to the student in writing and is considered final.

Students who have changed programs may have their transcripts re-evaluated so that only courses applicable to their current program of study are considered.

Academic Plans, Probation and Denial Status

In some cases, an appeal will be approved and an academic plan may be developed that, if followed, will enable the student to meet minimum SAP criterion and be removed from Financial Aid suspension. The student's academic performance will be monitored after grades are posted each term to ensure compliance with the plan. Because there can be a delay in the timing of grades and SAP evaluations, the financial aid disbursements will be delayed pending confirmation that satisfactory progress is being maintained. Failure to comply with the terms of the academic plan can/will result in the student losing Title IV eligibility at Ottawa University.

If an appeal is approved, the student will be placed on Financial Aid Probation. The student must improve his/her cumulative GPA and/or complete enough hours to meet the minimum standards stated above within the terms of the probation or risk being denied further Federal Financial Aid funding.

If a student is denied Federal Financial Aid due to unsatisfactory academic progress, he or she may be reinstated upon request once the minimum standards are met, or if another appeal is approved.

Students denied Federal Financial Aid because of unsatisfactory academic progress are responsible for any resulting financial obligations to Ottawa University.

Unofficial Withdrawals

Financial Aid students who fail to continue participating in an academically related activity before 60 percent or more of the calendar days have expired in any period of enrollment may be determined to have unofficially withdrawn if they are assigned a grade of F, NC or I. The Federal Return of Title IV Funds calculations will be processed as though the student had withdrawn and any required refunds will be returned to the appropriate Federal program(s).

Because the student did not officially withdraw, the institutional charges will not be reduced and any resulting return of funds can/will result in a balance due the University. For this reason, students are strongly encouraged to officially withdraw from any course as quickly as possible once the decision to not complete has been made.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS

New students will receive an ID card (aka Braves/OUAZ Spirit Card) at the beginning of their first semester on campus. The ID card must be carried at all times and serves as a student's official identification to school officials. If the ID is lost, a new one will be issued by the Office of Student Affairs. A fee of $25 will apply. The ID card is used to access the residence halls, scanned in the University dining center at each qualifying meal, used to check out books through the Gangwish Library, used for free admission to athletic and cultural events on campus. In addition, the ID card provides admission to the Hull Center for Athletics and other University events.

This University-issued ID card is the property of Ottawa University and must be returned upon departure from the University including withdrawal and graduation.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Ottawa University strives to provide equal education and participation opportunities for every student. No one with a known disability will be excluded intentionally from participating in or benefiting from any university policy, program, service or employment because of a disability. Ottawa University intends for all its programs and facilities to be accessible to persons with disabilities.

Ottawa University's Disabilities Services Coordinator for OUKS in Ottawa, Kansas is Kelsey Foss. She can be reached at 785-248-2582 or via email at kelsey.foss@ottawa.edu. The Disabilities Service Coordinator for OUAZ in Surprise, Arizona is Dr. Leslie Sherlin. He can be reached at 623-233-7583 or via email at leslie.sherlin@ottawa.edu. For all other University campuses, Fred Romero is the Disabilities Services Coordinator. He can be reached at 602-749-5150 or via email at fred.romero@ottawa.edu. A student may also find information and obtain forms at www.ottawa.edu/disabilities.

A student with a disability is responsible for contacting the disabilities coordinator assigned to his/her campus location to request reasonable accommodations. The University requires medical documentation of a disability and may request additional information or documentation. Where possible, requests for accommodations and services should be made one month prior to enrolling for the next academic term to ensure the appropriate accommodations or services can be provided. Some services or accommodations may require additional time. The personnel will work directly with each student to provide the services he or she needs.

Facilities and Services for Students with Disabilities

Reasonable accommodations for persons with known disabilities will be made in accordance with section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008. No person with a known disability will be intentionally excluded from participation in, be denied the benefit of, or otherwise be subject to discrimination under any University policy, program, service, or in relation to employment because of a disability. University programs and facilities are intended to be accessible to persons with disabilities as required by law. Ottawa University offers a wide range of accommodations and services for students with disabilities. Examples include extended testing times, accessible parking, accessible housing, interpreters for the deaf. Students wishing to receive an accommodation for a disability should contact the Disabilities Services coordinator (see contact information listed above). Students will be assisted in completing the request form and advised on the medical documentation required for an accommodation to be made. The file of the materials submitted by the student will be kept confidential. Only those employees required to know of a student's disability will be privy to this information. For the complete policy and forms, go to www.ottawa.edu/footer/disability-services.

University-wide: Student and Support Services

Accommodations and Support Services

Ottawa University offers a wide range of accommodations and services for students with disabilities. The University evaluates students on their individual needs, and the university makes services and special considerations available, based on students' documented disabilities. Such services include:

- Extended testing times
- Supplemental academic advising
- Classroom modifications or accommodations
- Accessible parking
- Accessible housing
- Communication with instructors and advisor about students' needs
- Referral for additional assistance

Students requiring these services may contact the disabilities coordinator assigned to his/her campus location for assistance.

Grievance Policy

The student with a disability has the right to file a grievance of the final plan or from a denial of accommodations. The grievance shall be filed with the Disability Service Coordinator on the University Grievance Form. The form may be found on the University website at or obtained from the Disability Service Coordinator

The form should be provided in person or via email to the Disability Service Coordinator. Upon receipt the Disability Service Coordinator shall forward the grievance to the ADA Coordinator as well as the complete file for the accommodation request and/or plan. The University ADA coordinator is Carrie Stevens and can be reached at 785-248-2326 or carrie.stevens@ottawa.edu.

The ADA Coordinator is responsible for resolving all grievances. The grievance process is as follows:

The ADA Coordinator shall determine the validity of the grievance based on a review of the written documentation provided. This shall include the request for accommodations, medical providers form, plan document, and any other documentation that is part of the disability file. If the grievance is deemed valid, the necessary modifications shall be made and the accommodations plan shall be re-written by the Disability Service Coordinator (and re-submitted to relevant faculty). If the grievance is deemed unmerited, the findings of the Disability Service Coordinator will be upheld. The ADA Coordinator shall render a decision within one week of receipt of the grievance.

Animals on Campus Policy

Definitions

Pet

A pet is defined as a domestic animal kept for pleasure or companionship.

Service Animal

A service animal is defined as a dog individually trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability, including, but not limited to, guiding individuals with impaired vision, alerting individuals who are hearing impaired to intruders or sounds, providing minimal protection or rescue work, pulling a wheelchair or fetching dropped items. The tasks must be directly related to the person's disability.

Emotional Support Animal

An emotional support animal is defined as an animal necessary for the student to have an equal opportunity to thrive in a collegiate environment. There must be a relationship between the support the animal provides and the individual student's documented disability.

Emotional support animals are not service animals and do not accompany an individual at all times. The consideration of an emotional support animal requires a prescription from a qualified healthcare or mental health professional. The documentation must demonstrate the use of the emotional support animal would assist in managing symptoms related to the student's disability.

The animal is subject to an individualized assessment to determine whether the animal poses a health or safety threat to others (limits on breed, size, etc.).

The emotional support animal must remain in the student's individual residence. In order to allow the emotional support animal to be brought into the suite/apartment common space, the student must have approval of all suite mates/apartment residents. The emotional support animal must be kept in the individual residence's room when the student is not present in the room/apartment and must be placed in a kennel or restrained to ensure the emotional support animal does not leave its living area. The animal must be supervised by its owner when on University owned or regulated property (i.e. pet sitting is prohibited).

Rules and Regulations

Pet

Pets are not permitted in University facilities.

Emotional Support Animal

Unlike service animals, an emotional support animal is viewed as a "reasonable accommodation" in a housing unit which otherwise has a "no pet" rule. Thus, exceptions are possible when the individual requesting the assistance of an emotional support animal provides appropriate documentation to the University from a qualified diagnostician or medical professional that demonstrates the animal ameliorates a condition that qualifies as a disability. Even when such exceptions are granted, emotional support animals are not guaranteed access to facilities to the same degree as are service animals; however, both emotional support animals and service animals must meet safety and behavioral standards as outlined below.

Approval of an emotional support animal should be obtained prior to the semester in which a handler wishes the animal to reside on campus. Handlers of emotional support animals must complete the accommodations request form and submit to the Disability Services Coordinator along with the formal documentation. The supporting documentation must be on letterhead, from a qualified professional, explaining how the animal ameliorates functional limitations or otherwise addresses the needs of the handler. Specific areas of need that should be addressed include:

- Type of disability the student possesses
- How the animal will assist the student, including whether the animal has undergone any training
- The nexus between the student's disability and the assistance the animal provides

The Disabilities Services Coordinator, in tandem with the University ADA Coordinator and relevant University units (such as Student Housing), will determine the degree of access the emotional support animal will be granted, informed by the qualified professional's explanation.

Safety and Behavioral Requirements of Emotional Support Animals and their Handlers

1. Identification and Other Tags: The animal must have tags or some other method of indicating ownership and rabies clearances.
2. Health and Vaccinations: The animal must be well cared for and in good health. Owner must provide a current health certificate issued by a licensed veterinarian. The animal must be clean, free of parasites (including fleas), and in good health, according to local laws. All animals on campus must have an annual clean bill of health from a licensed veterinarian. They must have had a general maintenance vaccination series appropriate to the species. All vaccinations must be current. Applicable animals must wear a current rabies vaccination tag. Proof of vaccination must be filed with Disability Services. A person with an ill animal may be asked to remove the animal from University facilities. All health and vaccination expenses are responsibility of the handler.
3. Restraint: The animal must be kept on a leash and under the control of the handler when outside of a residential room. Animal must be in kennel when owner is not in the residence hall/off-campus apartment.
4. Under Control of Handler: The handler must be in full control of the animal at all times. The care and supervision of a the animal is the sole responsibility of its handler. The animal must be maintained and used at all times in ways that do not create safety hazards for other persons.
5. Campus Residence Responsibility: Handlers living in University-sponsored/owned housing are responsible for any damage caused by their animal. When animals are left unattended in a residence, they are required to be kenneled or restrained with a tie down. It is the responsibility of the handler to ensure others are not disrupted by an unattended animal (e.g. no vocalizing).
6. Cleanup: Always carry equipment and bags sufficient to clean up the animal's feces. Properly dispose of the feces in a prearranged area. Persons who are not physically capable of picking up and disposing of the feces are responsible for making all necessary arrangements for assistance. The University is not responsible for these arrangements. The owner must maintain a clean, odor-free environment with the animal and must clean up and appropriately dispose of all animal waste. Specific areas for animal defecation will be determined on a case by case basis. If the animal has an accident (vomits, urinates, and/or defecates) on carpet or fabric, the student must clean it to the best of their ability and then put in a work order for maintenance to come and disinfect the affected spot.
7. Disruption: The handler of an animal that is unruly or disruptive (e.g., barking, running around, aggressiveness towards others, bringing attention to itself) may be asked to remove the animal from University facilities. If the improper behavior happens repeatedly, the handler may be disallowed to bring the offending animal into University facilities until the handler takes significant steps to eliminate the behavior.
8. Upon approval, a student must meet with the Disability Services Coordinator to review applicable guidelines and responsibilities.

Service Animals

Types of Working Animals Allowed On Campus

1. Dog Guides are trained to assist blind or visually impaired handlers in navigating their physical environment.
2. Hearing Dogs are trained to alert deaf or hard of hearing handlers to specific important sounds in the environment.
3. Mobility Assistance Dogs are dogs that have been trained to assist a person who has mobility impairments.

4. Medical Alert Dogs are trained to notify persons with a medical disorder to a change in physiological status. Diabetic Alert Dogs alert to a change in the blood-glucose levels of their diabetic handler. Migraine Alert Dogs alert to an oncoming migraine headache in their susceptible handler. Seizure Alert Dogs alert to oncoming seizures in their epileptic handler. Asthma Alert Dogs alert to impending asthma attacks in their asthmatic handler. Psychiatric Alert Dogs alert to mood cycling in bipolar handlers, or impending panic and anxiety attacks in handlers with these conditions.
5. Social Signal Dogs are trained to assist a person with autism.

Determination of Service Animal Status

When it is readily apparent to a University employee that a dog is trained to do work or perform tasks for an individual with a disability under this protocol (for example, if the dog is observed guiding an individual who is blind or has low vision, or pulling a person's wheelchair, or providing assistance with stability or balance to an individual with an observable mobility disability), no further inquiry should be made to determine the dog is a service animal under this protocol, and is thus allowed in areas open to the public on campus. However, when not readily apparent, University employees may elicit additional information only as it is necessary to make a determination: (1) the dog is required due to a disability; and (2) of what specific work or tasks the dog has been trained to perform. Ottawa University employees will not inquire about the nature or extent of the individual's disability before allowing use of the dog as a service animal in public areas on campus, nor require documentation of the dog's certification or training.

Safety, Behavioral Requirements and Responsibilities of Service Animals and their Handlers

1. Complete and submit OU Disabilities Services Form.
2. Identification and Other Tags: The animal must have tags or some other method of indicating ownership and rabies clearances. It is strongly suggested but not required service animals be fitted with some type of identifying equipment such as a harness, cape or backpack as appropriate.
3. Health and Vaccinations: Provide a current health certificate issued by a licensed veterinarian. The animal must be clean, free of parasites (including fleas), and in good health, according to local laws. All animals on campus must have an annual clean bill of health form a licensed veterinarian. They must have had a general maintenance vaccination series appropriate to the species. All vaccinations must be current. Applicable animals must wear a current rabies vaccination tag. Proof of vaccination must be filed with the Disability Services Coordinator. service animals that are ill should not be taken into public settings. A person with an ill animal may be asked to remove the animal from University facilities. All health and vaccination expenses are responsibility of the handler.
4. Restraint: The animal must be kept on a leash and under the control of the handler when outside of a residential room.
5. Under Control of Handler: The handler must be in full control of the animal at all times. The care and supervision of a service animal is the sole responsibility of its handler. The animal must be maintained and used at all times in ways that do not create safety hazards for other persons.
6. Campus Residence Responsibility: Handlers living in University residences are responsible for any damage caused by their animal. When working animals are left unattended in a residence, they are required to be kenneled or restrained with a tie down. It is the responsibility of the handler to ensure others are not disrupted by an unattended animal (e.g. - no vocalizing).
7. Cleanup: Always carry equipment and bags sufficient to clean up the animal's feces. Properly dispose of the feces in a prearranged area. Persons who are not physically capable of picking up and disposing of the feces are responsible for making all necessary arrangements for assistance. The University is not responsible for these arrangements.

University-wide: Student and Support Services

8. Disruption: The handler of an animal that is unruly or disruptive (e.g., barking, running around, aggressiveness towards others, bringing attention to itself) may be asked to remove the animal from University facilities. If the improper behavior happens repeatedly, the handler may be disallowed to bring the offending animal into University facilities until the handler takes significant steps to eliminate the behavior.
9. Registration Required: All working animals must be registered with Disability Services. Failure to register or maintain an animal, as required above, may subject the handler to fines or refusal by the University for the animal to remain on campus.
10. All costs associated with the working animal are the responsibility of the handler. This includes, but not limited to: damage to property, health and vaccination care, food, registration and special equipment

Circumstances that May Exclude A Service Animal and/or Emotional Support Animals from University Facilities

Service animals under state and federal law are permitted in University facilities except under limited circumstances. Service animals may be excluded from University facilities under certain circumstances when necessary to protect legitimate University interests. Access to areas is subject to conditions and limitations established by law and are applicable alike to all persons. These circumstances may include:

1. Interfering with the work of another service animal.
2. Causing a “fundamental alteration” of curricula, services, activities or programs due to the presence of an animal.
3. The animal or handler failing to maintain appropriate behavioral standards and/or hygiene.
4. Maintaining and protecting the rights of others under the ADA/504.
5. Protecting University property.
6. When the presence of the animal poses a “direct threat” to the health and safety of the public, employees, and students.

Requirements for Faculty, Staff, and Students

1. Allow a service animal to accompany the handler at all times and everywhere on campus, except where service animals are specifically prohibited (subject only to the conditions and limitations established by law and applicable alike to all persons).
2. Do not pet or touch a service animal; petting the animal while it is working distracts it from the tasks at hand and may cause the animal to be corrected or the handler to be injured.
3. Do not feed a service animal. The animal may have specific dietary requirements. Unusual food may cause the animal to become ill.
4. Do not deliberately startle a service animal.
5. Do not attempt to separate a handler from his or her service animal.

Responsibilities of Disability Services

1. Maintain a current registry of service and emotional support animals on campus.
2. Collect and keep on file current health certificates.
3. Notify appropriate personnel/campus offices of the animal and handler/partner.
4. Provide the campus community with guidelines for appropriate interaction with the animal as needed.

Students with Temporary Disability

Students who have temporary disabilities (a broken leg or other injuries or illnesses related to accidents, illness or surgery) may contact the disabilities coordinator for assistance. Students may receive temporary parking permits, assistance to and from class, supplemental tutoring services, and referrals for additional assistance.

Confidentiality

Students with disabilities cannot be discriminated against under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1974 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. Within these acts, the federal government requires all information related to a person’s disability be kept confidential. All files related to disabilities will be kept secure, and information will only be shared with staff and faculty members who need to know about a person’s disability and when there is a compelling reason to share this information.

OTTAWA UNIVERSITY FAN SHOP

Students at any Ottawa University campus may purchase textbooks and other school supplies from the University Fan Shop online (<http://ottawa.edu/FanShop>) or their respective campus location. The Fan Shop also offers clothing, novelties, supplies, and greeting cards. The store accepts cash, personal checks, MasterCard, Visa, and Discover for the amount of purchase only.

The University Fan Shop is open Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. unless otherwise posted. Weekend and summer hours vary.

Textbook Orders

Ottawa University Fan Shop offers a textbook pricing comparison function on its online bookstore. It is designed to allow students the ability to compare other retailer prices against Ottawa University website prices.

The advantages to this include:

- Students can sometimes forget how valuable buying from the campus bookstore can be: easy returns, same-day pickup, and guaranteed accuracy.
- It helps students compare offers on more than just price.
- It allows students to see that Ottawa University prices are competitive, particularly when it comes to renting titles.

When entering the Ottawa University Fan Shop website (<http://ottawa.edu/FanShop>), students will go to the TEXTBOOKS icon located at the top of the page.

1. Select GET TEXTBOOKS
2. Select the Term, Department, Course, and Section affiliated with your class.

3. Click the ADD button to add the class to your course list.
4. Repeat these steps as many times as you like to select books for multiple classes.
5. Click the GET YOUR BOOKS button to see a full list of all your books for each selected class.
6. Students then choose the Term Name, Department, Course, Section, and Titles they wish to compare.

When the student chooses to “Begin Price Comparison”, the screen shows the title in the top left, along with the store prices to the right. Beneath store prices is a listing of alternate prices from other vendors.

The student can then choose to add either your book, or the competitor’s book to their cart. In both cases, the items appear in their shopping cart with the Ottawa University site, thereby allowing them to complete the transaction, or continue shopping, without having to leave the website.

Please note that Ottawa University students are eligible to receive a book advance (check with your financial aid advisor for details) for purchasing textbooks. The book advance is only applicable to items purchased through the Ottawa University Fan Shop.

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

University-wide: Student Code of Conduct

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

PURPOSE AND PHILOSOPHY

The purpose of Ottawa University's Student Conduct Code is to promote a positive, inclusive environment of mutual respect and understanding that fosters student and academic development of her students. The Student Code of Conduct's foundation is rooted in Ottawa University's commitment to Christian values, community, unity and integration of knowledge, and especially her students. Ottawa University prides itself on being a Christ-inspired community of grace and open inquiry, and that graciousness applied to the student learning process is the founding tenet of the Student Code of Conduct. Education, immediate and lifelong, is reflected in the mission of the institution along with the Student Code of Conduct.

Ottawa University's mission stresses the significance not only of each student's humanity, but each person's role in the Ottawa University community. The Office of Student Affairs works diligently to provide a campus environment where students take responsibility for their actions and inactions. Ottawa University views its conduct process as a learning experience focused on student personal growth and development. The code is meant to facilitate and support student understanding of their roles and responsibilities within both the Ottawa University and the greater local, national, and global communities.

APPROACH TO THE CONDUCT PROCESS

The Student Code of Conduct promotes honesty, integrity, accountability, rights and responsibilities associated with being a constructive member of the Ottawa University community. The code describes expected standards of behavior for all students along with the process for managing violations to the code. The Code is not meant to be an exhaustive list of prohibited behavior, but rather serves student conduct in a broad context. The Dean for Student Affairs, or his/her designee, reserves the right to define and interpret the Code and conduct procedures. Ottawa University has the right to amend the Code at any time. Those substantive amendments/changes will be communicated via campus email and posted on the student section of the MyOttawa portal.

The Student Code of Conduct is Ottawa University's policy regarding non-academic issues of students and student organizations. Academic issues are not covered by this Code, but fall within the authority of the academic unit of the University.

Ottawa University is committed to the protection of human dignity, the burden of responsible behavior and providing students with a fair and educational conduct process that supersedes technical and legalistic approaches to inappropriate behavior. The Ottawa University Student Code of Conduct is educational in its approach, and serves to educate students about their choices and responsibilities as citizens of the Ottawa University, the Ottawa community, and the greater national and international communities.

Ottawa University conducts student disciplinary matters on a progressive discipline basis whereby infractions have a cumulative effect. It should be understood that the campus conduct process will not operate as a civil court; students are subject to federal, state and local laws as well as institutional regulations. A student is not entitled to greater immunities or privileges before the law than those generally enjoyed by other citizens. Students are subject to reasonable disciplinary action as deemed appropriate for the breach of federal, state or local laws which are likely to have an adverse effect on the institution or on the educational process, or where an offender may endanger other persons on campus.

Ottawa University requires of its students superior ethical and moral behavior above and beyond the standards of civil and criminal codes. In support of this, Ottawa University, as a private independent college, has broad discretion in establishing disciplinary rules and procedures through its agreement relationships with each student.

conduct even if the student withdraws from school while a disciplinary matter is pending.

Ottawa University reserves the right to disqualify, discontinue, exclude, or involuntarily withdraw any student from the University at the discretion of the Campus Executive/Dean of Student Affairs, or his/her designee, as deemed necessary for the safety and/or well-being of the student and/or others.

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT PROCESS

1. Reporting and Initiation of Conduct Process

- A. After Receiving an Incident Report (IR), the Student Conduct Administrator:
  - i. Shall determine whether the IR sufficiently reflects information that a violation of the Student Code of Conduct may have occurred;
  - ii. Shall determine whether the IR primarily reflects academic or non-academic misconduct and shall request the Dean/designee to reassign the matter if necessary;
  - iii. After receiving the IR, the Student Conduct Administrator may interview the person filing the IR and other persons with information, and may seek additional information regarding the information in the IR.
- B. If the Student Conduct Administrator determines that the Student Code of Conduct has not been violated or that a violation cannot be substantiated, the situation will end at that time.
- C. If the Student Conduct Administrator determines that a matter should not be pursued under the Student Code of Conduct, the Student Conduct Administrator may still recommend that an education conference be held with the reported student(s), so that the perceived conduct at issue is not repeated, or so that the reported student(s) may better understand the effects and consequences of the perceived actions.
- D. The IR will be considered an allegation under the Student Code of Conduct only after the Student Conduct Administrator determines that a sufficient basis exists to believe that a policy violation may have occurred.
- E. If the Student Conduct Administrator believes that a violation of the Student Code of Conduct may have occurred, the Administrator shall notify the reported student by campus email of the alleged violation [see item #2 – notice], will set a time to meet with the reported student in person [see item #3 – case conference/meeting], and will gather any other information needed to resolve the matter.

University-wide: Student Code of Conduct

- F. At the meeting, the Student Conduct Administrator will review with the student the following:
  - i. An explanation of any Conduct Code violations at issue;
  - ii. A summary of the information gathered;
  - iii. Reasonable opportunity to respond, and;
  - iv. An explanation of the conduct process.
- G. During the meeting with the reported student, both the Student Conduct Administrator and the reported student may have witnesses available, but the witnesses need not be in the same room as the reported student.
- H. After carefully considering the information gathered, the Student Conduct Administrator shall determine whether it is more likely than not that a violation of the Student Code of Conduct has occurred and, if so, the appropriate sanction(s) that apply.

2. Notice

- A. The Student Conduct Administrator shall initiate the conduct process by sending written notice to the reported student at the University email address of the reported student. Notice to the student will be considered furnished when the email is sent to the student's Ottawa University-provided email address at least three (3) business days prior to a scheduled conference with the Student Conduct Administrator. The notice shall include:
  - i. A description of the reported misconduct;
  - ii. The Student Code of Conduct provision that are reported to have been violated;
  - iii. A statement informing the reported student that s/he will be given an opportunity to respond to the alleged violations of the Student Code of Conduct and to call relevant and necessary witnesses.
  - iv. A date and time for the conference in which the reported student must meet with the Student Conduct Administrator. If the reported student is unable to meet during this time, it is the reported student's responsibility to reschedule in advance of the conference.

The reported student shall have the right to a fair and consistent conference. If the reported student does not attend the conference meeting, the Student Conduct Administrator can decide the outcome of the case in the reported student's absence.

3. Conference Meeting

- A. At the conference meeting, the Student Conduct Administrator shall explain the conduct process and answer any questions the reported student may have. The Student Conduct Administrator shall review the report with the reported student. The reported student shall have the opportunity to present documents and to explain his/her understanding of what occurred. The Student Conduct Administrator may discuss the matter further with the reported student, pursue further investigation as needed, and based on information received, determine by a preponderance of the information whether or not the reported student has violated the Student Code of Conduct.
- B. A Student Conduct Advocate of the student's choosing may be present at the meeting. The Student Conduct Advocate may support, but is not permitted to speak and/or participate in the conference process during the conference.

4. The Decision

- A. After the conference meeting, the Student Conduct Administrator may find by "a preponderance of the information" that the reported student is not responsible, or may find that the reported student is responsible and issue a sanction based on that finding. The Student Conduct Administrator shall endeavor to have a decision that resolved the reported violation(s) no later than ten

(10) business days after the conference. Should the investigation require more research after the conference meeting, further conferences may be scheduled, and decisions may be delayed. Delay of decision does not absolve student responsibility.

5. Sanctions

Below is a non-exhaustive list of sanctions that may be imposed on responsible individuals under this Code. What sanction or sanctions are appropriate in a particular conduct event will depend on the circumstances. Multiple sanctions may be imposed in connection with any violation.

- i. Written Warning or Reprimand. A notice in writing to the student that the student is violating or has violated institutional policy(s).
- ii. Disciplinary Probation. This is a form of probation that is distinct from probation that may be imposed as a result of academic performance. A student may be placed on probation. Any violation of the Student Code of Conduct or the conditions of probation committed during the probationary period shall result in further disciplinary action such as suspension or dismissal.

Conditions for readmission to the residence hall may be specified. Suspension from a residence hall may impact student status. See Campus Housing policy in the Student Handbook.

- xiii. Suspension in Abeyance. The student is suspended from the University, but due to mitigating circumstances the suspension is deferred, allowing the student to continue with daily college activities and providing a student with a final opportunity to prove s/he can operate responsibly within the community. If the student, through the conduct process, is found to have violated the Student Code of Conduct during the period of the suspension in abeyance, the student shall immediately be suspended from the University for the duration of the abeyance as well as given additional sanctions, including an extension of the suspension, or dismissal. A suspension notation does not appear on the student's transcript during the period of suspension in abeyance.

- xiv. Suspension. The student is required to leave the University for a specific period of time. An indication of suspension appears on the student's transcript. After the period of suspension has expired, the transcript notation shall be removed. Ottawa University understands the implications of alcohol and drug abuse and misuse on individual's academic and personal endeavors, and seeks to provide a healthy and safe campus and living environment to all of its constituents.

Ottawa University has developed the following process regarding violations to its alcohol and other drug policies. Ottawa University has followed the guidelines set forth in the Drug-free Schools and Communities Act and Amendments of 1989 in implementing its enforcement of the alcohol and drug usage policy. For more information, see the Appendix C.

Sanctions for alcohol and drug violations may be more severe if the incident includes the following aggravating factor(s) including but limited to: public intoxication, provision of alcohol/drugs to minors, driving a vehicle under the influence of alcohol/drugs, damage to property, obstructions of a peace officer, or failure to cooperate with a University official. Sanctions may also be more severe if the incident is accompanied by other violations of the Student Code of Conduct.

6. Mitigating and/or Aggravating Factors

- A. In determining the sanction, the Student Conduct Administrator may consider mitigating and aggravating factors. A non-exhaustive list of factors that may be considered include the following:
  - i. Pre-Notification Admission. When a reported student voluntarily admits misconduct before learning that someone has referred the matter or is about to refer the matter.
  - ii. Other Admissions. Even an admission made after a notice has been initiated may have some mitigating value. This type of admission shows acknowledgment of the inappropriate nature of the reported student's conduct.
  - iii. Cooperation. The Student Conduct Administrator may consider how cooperative, or uncooperative, the reported student was during the process, including whether the reported student responded timely to inquiries and requests for meetings, provided requested information, and dealt honestly and civilly with the Student Conduct Administrator and others involved with the process.
  - iv. Intent. Conduct falls on an intent continuum that ranges from malicious, willful, intentional, reckless, and grossly negligent conduct on the more serious end, to merely negligent, careless, and accidental conduct on the less serious end. Where conduct falls on this continuum may be considered when determining sanctions.

- v. Degree of Harm or Seriousness of Violation. The degree of harm to others and the seriousness of the conduct are relevant factors in determining sanctions.
- vi. Prior Violations. Prior violations of the Student Code of Conduct may be considered as aggravating factors.
- vii. Discriminatory Motive. If a reported student is engaging in conduct prohibited under the Student Code of Conduct, also is found to have intentionally directed the conduct toward a person or group because of the race, color, religion, age, national origin, ancestry, disability, gender, sexual orientation, marital, or parental status of the targeted person or group, that discriminatory motive will be considered an aggravating factor in determining sanctions.

7. Appeals

- A. A decision reached by the Student Conduct Administrator or a sanction imposed by the Student Conduct Administrator may be appealed by the Reported Student(s) to Dean of Student Affairs or his/her designee within three (3) business days of the decision. The Dean of Student Affairs, or his/her designee, may assign the appeal to the Campus Life Committee. The appeals shall be in writing and shall be delivered to the Student Conduct Administrator or his/her designee. If the student behavior resulting in the conduct process involved violent or dangerous behavior, the Dean of Student Affairs or his/her designee, shall be required to consider the safety of the Ottawa University community in its deliberations and recommendation, and any sanction imposed on the reported student shall not be stayed pending the appeal.
- B. Except as required to explain the basis of new information, an appeal shall be limited to a review of the record of the Student Conduct Administrator and supporting documents for one or more of the following purposes:
  - i. To determine whether the Student Conduct Administrator conference and deliberation was conducted fairly in light of the information presented, and in conformity with prescribed procedure giving the complaining party a reasonable opportunity to prepare and to present information that the Student Code was violated, and giving the Reported Student, a reasonable opportunity to prepare and to present a response to those allegations.
  - ii. To determine whether the decision reached regarding the Reported Student was based on substantial information, that is, whether there were facts in the case that, if believed by the fact finder, were sufficient to establish that a violation of the Student Code occurred.
  - iii. To determine whether the sanction(s) imposed were appropriate for the violation of the Student Code which the student was found to have committed.
  - iv. To consider new information, sufficient to alter a decision or other relevant facts not brought out in the original deliberation, because such information and/or facts were not known to the person appealing at the time of the original Student Conduct conference.
- C. If an appeal is upheld by the Dean of Student Affairs, or his/her designee, the matter shall be returned to the original Student Conduct Administrator for re-opening to allow reconsideration of the original determination and/or sanction(s). The decision on an appeal is considered final.

SEXUAL MISCONDUCT POLICY

POLICY STATEMENT

Ottawa University (“University”) is committed to providing a learning, working, and living environment that promotes personal integrity, civility, and mutual respect in an environment free of discrimination on the basis of sex. The University considers sex discrimination in all forms to be a serious offense. Sex discrimination constitutes a violation of this policy, is unacceptable, and will not be tolerated. Sex discrimination includes discrimination based on pregnancy, gender identity as well as that based on the failure to conform to stereotypical notions of femininity and masculinity.

Sexual harassment, whether verbal physical, or visual, that is based on sex, is a form prohibited sex discrimination. Sexual harassment also includes sexual violence. The specific definitions of sexual harassment and sexual violence, including examples of such conduct, are set forth below.

SCOPE

This policy applies to administrators, faculty, and other University employees; students; applicants for employment; customers; third-party contractors; and all other persons that participate in the University’s educational programs and activities, including third-party visitors on campus (the “University Community”). This policy prohibits sex discrimination, sexual harassment, and sexual violence even when the complainant and alleged perpetrator are members of the same sex, and it applies regardless of national origin, immigration status, or citizenship status. The University’s prohibition on sex discrimination and sexual harassment extends to all aspects of its educational programs and activities, including, but not limited to, admissions, employment, academics, athletics, housing, and student services.

JURISDICTION

The University has jurisdiction over Title IX-related complaints regarding conduct that occurred on campus, conduct that occurred during an official University program or activity (regardless of location), off campus activities and online activities/actions when the conduct creates a hostile environment on campus, and conduct occurring in University housing and University-sponsored housing. The University will investigate all complaints made under this policy and, if necessary, take action to prevent the recurrence of sex discrimination and remedy its effects.

TITLE IX STATEMENT ON POLICY

It is the policy of the University to comply with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 and its implementing regulations, which prohibit discrimination based on sex in the University’s educational programs and activities. Title IX and its implementing regulations also prohibit retaliation for asserting claims of sex discrimination. The University has designated the following Title IX Coordinator to coordinate its compliance with Title IX and to receive inquired regarding Title IX, including complaints for sex discrimination:

Director of University Compliance/Title IX Coordinator
1001 South Cedar Street
Ottawa, KS 66067

SEXUAL MISCONDUCT VIOLATIONS

State law defines various violent and/or non-consensual sexual acts as crimes. While some of these acts may have parallels in criminal law, Ottawa University has defined categories of sex/gender discrimination as sexual misconduct, as stated below, for which action under this policy may be imposed. Ottawa considers Non-Consensual Sexual Intercourse violations to be the most serious of these offenses, and therefore typically imposes the most severe sanctions, including suspension or expulsion for students and termination for employees. However, Ottawa reserves the right to impose any level of sanction, ranging from a reprimand up to and including suspension or expulsion/termination, for any act of sexual misconduct or other sex/gender-based offenses, including intimate partner (dating and/or domestic) violence, non-consensual sexual contact and/or stalking based on the facts and circumstances of the particular allegation. Acts of sexual misconduct may be committed by any person upon any other person, regardless of the sex, sexual orientation and/or gender identity of those involved. Violations include:

Sexual Violence

Collectively, Non-consensual Sexual Contact and Non-consensual Sexual Intercourse can be referred to as “Sexual Violence”. Sexual violence includes physical sexual acts perpetrated against a person’s will or where a person is incapable of giving consent because of his or her temporary or permanent mental or physical incapacity, because of his or her youth, or because of his or her incapacitation due to the use of drugs or alcohol.

Examples of Sexual Violence

- An ex-girlfriend shames her female partner, threatening to out her as a lesbian if she doesn’t give the ex another chance. Psychological abuse is a form of Intimate Partner Violence.
- A graduate student refuses to wear a condom and forces his girlfriend to take hormonal birth control though it makes her ill, in order to prevent pregnancy.
- Married employees are witnessed in the parking garage, with one partner slapping and scratching the other in the midst of an argument.

Stalking/Cyberstalking

Persons who violate Ottawa University’s policy against stalking/cyberstalking, as found in the Student Handbook, will be subject to disciplinary action through the Ottawa University Office of Student Affairs who administers the Code of Conduct, unless the alleged violation is also being brought in a complaint under this Sexual Misconduct Policy. In that case, the violation may be determined in conjunction with the Title IX Complaint. Stalking is a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to feel fear. Course of conduct is defined as “a pattern of actions composed of more than one act over a period of time, however short, evidencing a continuity of conduct.”

- Examples of Stalking
  - o A student repeatedly shows up at another student’s on-campus residence, always notifying the front desk attendant that they are there to see the resident. Upon a call to the resident, the student informs residence hall staff that this visitor is uninvited and continuously attempts to see them, even so far as waiting for them outside of classes and showing up to their on-campus place of employment requesting that they go out on a date together.
  - o A graduate student working as an on-campus tutor received flowers and gifts delivered to their office. After learning the gifts were from a student they recently tutored, the graduate student thanked the student and stated that it was not necessary and would appreciate if the gift deliveries stop. The student then started leaving notes of love and gratitude on the graduate assistant’s car, both on-campus and at home. Asked again to stop, the student stated by email: “You can ask me to stop, but I’m not giving up. We are meant to be together, and I’ll do anything necessary to make you have the feelings for me that I have for you.” When the tutor did not respond, the student emailed again, “You cannot escape me. I will track you to the ends of the earth. We are meant to be together”.

Sexual Exploitation

An act or acts committed through non-consensual abuse or exploitation of another person’s sexuality for the purpose of sexual gratification, financial gain, personal benefit or advantage, or any other non-legitimate purpose, the act or acts of sexual exploitation are present even if the behavior does not constitute another sexual misconduct offense. Sexual exploitation may involve individuals who are known to one another, have an intimate sexual relationship, and /or may involve individuals now known to each other.

Examples of Sexual Exploitation:

- Sexual voyeurism (such as watching person undressing, using the bathroom or engaged in sexual acts without the consent of the person observed).

Special Guidance Concerning Complaints of Sexual Violence, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, or Stalking

1. If you are the victim of a crime sexual violence, domestic or dating violence, or stalking, do not blame yourself. These crimes are never the victim's fault. When physical violence of a sexual nature has been perpetrated against you, the University recommends that you immediately go to the emergency room of a local hospital and contact local law enforcement (call 911 if an emergency), in addition to making a prompt complain to the Title IX Coordinator. You may also wish to contact the National Sexual Assault Hotline at 800-656-HOPE or one of the additional resources listed in this policy.
2. If you are the victim of sexual violence, domestic violence, or dating violence, do everything possible to preserve evidence by making certain that the crime scene is not disturbed. Preservation of evidence by may be necessary for proof of the crime in obtaining a protection order. Victims of sexual violence, domestic violence, or dating violence should not bathe, urinate, douche, brush teeth, ordering liquids until after they are examined and, if necessary, a rape examination is completed. Clothes should not be changed. When necessary, seek immediate medical attention at an area hospital and take a full change of clothing, including shoes, for use after a medical examination.
3. Under the Violence Against Women Act ("VAWA"), Ottawa University is required to disclose certain information regarding sexual violence, domestic and dating violence, and stalking. You may find Ottawa University's information, which includes state-specific statutes for criminal violations of these offenses, in Appendix D of the Student Handbook.

CONSENT, FORCE, AND INCAPACITATION

Consent: is knowing, voluntary, and clear permission by word or action to engage in mutually agreed upon sexual activity. Consent is informed, freely given, and mutually understood. Consent requires an affirmative act or statement by each participant. Consent is not passive.

Since individuals may experience the same interaction in different ways, it is the responsibility of each party to make certain that the other has consented before engaging in the activity. For consent to be valid, there must be a clear expression in words or actions that the other individual consented to that specific sexual conduct. Consent can be withdrawn once given, as long as the withdrawn is clearly communicated.

Consent to some sexual contact (such as kissing) cannot be presumed to be consent for other sexual activity (such as intercourse). A current or previous dating relationship is not sufficient to constitute consent. The existence of consent is based on the totality of the circumstances, including the context in which the alleged incident occurred an any similar previous patterns that may be evidenced.

Force: Force is the use of physical violence an/or imposing on someone physically to gain sexual access. Force also includes threats, intimidation (implied threats) and coercion that overcome resistance or produce consent ("have sex with me or I'll hit you"). Coercion is unreasonable pressure for sexual activity. Coercive behavior different from seductive behavior based on the type of pressure someone uses to get consent from another when someone makes clear that they do not want a sexual activity to occur, continued pressure can be coercive. Note: Silence or the absence of resistance alone is not consent. There is no requirement on a party to resist the sexual advance or request, but resistance is a clear demonstration of non-consent. The presence of consent is not demonstrated by the absence of resistance. Sexual activity that is forced is by definition non-consensual, but non-consensual sexual activity is not be definition forced.

Incapacitation: A person cannot consent if they are unable to understand what is happening or is disoriented, helpless, asleep or unconscious for any reason, including due to alcohol or other drugs. An individual who engages in sexual activity when the individual knows, or should know, that the other person is physically or mentally incapacity has violated this policy. It is not an excuse that the responding party was intoxicated and, therefore, did not realize the incapacity of the reporting party.

Incapacitation is defined as a state where someone cannot make rational, reasonable decisions because they lack the capacity to give knowing/informed consent (e.g., to understand the "who, what, when, where, why or how") of their sexual interaction). This policy also covers a person whose incapacity results form mental disability, involuntary physical restraint and/ or from the taking of incapacitating drugs.

A person who is legally considered a minor cannot consent to sexual activity. This means that sexual contact by an adult with a person considered a minor by the State may be a crime and a potential violation of this policy, even if the minor wanted to engage in the act.

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Title IX Coordinator

It is the responsibility of the Title IX Coordinator to: (1) receive complaints under this policy; (2) coordinate dissemination of information and education and training programs; (3) assist members of the University Community in understanding that sexual misconduct is prohibited by this policy; (4) answer questions about this policy; (5) appoint investigators and ensure that they are trained to respond to and investigate complaints of sexual misconduct; (6) ensure that employees and students are aware of the procedures for reporting and addressing complaints of sexual misconduct; and (7) to implement the Complaint Resolution Procedures or to designate appropriate persons for implementing the Complaint Resolution Procedures. If circumstances require, the Executive Vice President/Chief Financial Officer may designate another person to oversee the process as stated in this Policy, should a conflict arise or should the Coordinator otherwise be unavailable to fulfill the duties herein.

Administrators, Deans, and Other Managers

It is the responsibility of administrators, deans, and other supervisory staff (i.e., those that formally supervise other employees) to:

- Inform employees under their direction or supervision of this policy
- Work with the Title IX Coordinator to implement education and training programs for employees and students
- Implement any corrective actions that are imposed as a result of findings of a violation of this policy

All Employees

It is the responsibility of all employees to review this policy and comply with it. All employees, including Administrators, Deans, Managers, Faculty, Staff, Graduate Assistants, Residential Life Professional Staff, and others, are “mandatory reporters”. As a mandatory reporter, one must inform the appropriate supervisor and/or the Title IX Coordinator upon receiving any information which might be a violation of this policy.

Students

It is the responsibility of all students to review this policy and comply with it.

The University

When the University is aware that a member of the University Community may have been subjected to or affected by conduct that violates this policy, the University will take prompt action, including a review of the matter and, if necessary, an investigation and appropriate steps to stop and remedy the sexual misconduct. The University will act in accordance with its Complaint Resolution Procedures.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM

While the University is committed to the principles of free inquiry and free expression, sexual misconduct is neither legally protected expression or the proper exercise of academic freedom.

EDUCATION

Because the University recognizes that the prevention of sexual misconduct, as well as domestic violence, dating violence, intrapersonal violence, and stalking, is important, it offers educational programming to a variety of groups such as: campus personnel; incoming students and new employees participating in orientation; and members of student organizations. Among other elements, such training will cover relevant definitions, procedures, and sanctions; will provide safe and positive options for bystander intervention; and will provide risk reduction information, including recognizing warning signs of abusive behavior and how to avoid potential attacks. To learn more about education resources, please contact the Title IX Coordinator.

AMNESTY FOR REPORTING PARTY AND WITNESSES

The University encourages the reporting of misconduct and crimes by reporting parties and witnesses. Sometimes, reporting parties or witnesses are hesitant to report to University officials or participate in resolution processes because they fear that they themselves may be accused of policy violations, such as underage drinking at the time of the incident. It is in the best interests of this community that reporting parties choose to report to university officials, and that witnesses come forward to share what they know. To encourage reporting, Ottawa University maintains a policy of offering reporting parties and witnesses amnesty from minor policy violations related to the incident. However, this policy does not prevent the University from requiring educational and/or counseling options when needed to those who offer assistance under this policy.

COMPLAINTS

Ottawa University encourages the reporting of misconduct and crimes by witnesses and victims. This Section addresses the method and details of filing a complaint and the following Section addresses the Complaint Resolution Procedures.

Making a complaint

Complaints may be made directly to the Title IX Coordinator, Carrie Stevens, at 785-248-2326 or carrie.stevens@ottawa.edu or with the Deputy Title IX Coordinator, Brittney Kellar, who is located at the Surprise, AZ campus, and can be reached at 623-233-7546 or Brittney.kellar@ottawa.edu. A person may also tell any employee who can assist in relaying the information to the Title IX Coordinator. Students may also file a complaint with the Department of Education’s Office of Civil Rights, as set forth above.

Complaints will be resolved as set forth in this policy under the heading, “Complaint Resolution Procedures”, below.

Timing of Complaints

There is no statute of limitations for complaints under the Sexual Misconduct Policy. However, the University encourages persons to make complaints of sexual misconduct as soon as possible because late reporting may limit the University’s ability to investigate and respond to the conduct complained of.

Faculty and Employees

All University faculty and employees have a duty to promptly report sexual misconduct to the Title IX Coordinator when they observe such conduct or a report of sexual misconduct is made to them. This does not apply to employees who may maintain confidentiality as described in this policy.

Students

Students are encouraged to file a report under this policy when they experience or witness sexual misconduct. Students who wish to report sexual misconduct should file a complaint with the Title IX Coordinator. Students should be aware that all faculty and employees at the University, except those who may maintain confidentiality as described in this policy, have an obligation to report sexual misconduct to the Title IX Coordinator if they observe such conduct or receive a report of such conduct.

Vendors, Contractors, and Third Parties

This policy applies to the conduct of vendors, contractors, and third parties. If any of these people believe they have been subject to sexual misconduct in violation of the policy, they should make a report as instructed in this policy.

Likewise, members of the University Community may file complaints under this policy against vendors, contractors, and third parties.

Content of the Complaint

So that the University has sufficient information to investigate a complaint, the complaint should include: (1) the date(s) and time(s) of the alleged conduct; (2) the names of all person(s) involved in the alleged conduct, including possible witnesses; (3) all details outlining what happened; and (4) contact information for the complainant so that the University may follow up appropriately.

Conduct that Constitutes a Crime

Any person who wishes to make a complaint of sexual misconduct that also constitutes a crime – including sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking – is encouraged to make a complaint to local law enforcement. If requested, the University will assist the complainant in notifying the appropriate law enforcement authorities. In the event of an emergency, please contact 911. A victim may decline to notify such authorities.

Confidential Reports

If a person desires to talk confidentially about the situation, that person may contact numerous on-and off- campus resources. These resources are available to assist you and will not report your circumstances to the University for investigation without your permission. Notwithstanding, crimes reported to confidential resources at Ottawa University will be reported to the appropriate University personnel for inclusion in the University’s annual crime statistics disclosure, though your name will be withheld from this report.

Protecting the Complainant and Respondent

Interim Measures: Pending the final outcome of an investigation in accordance with the Complaint Resolution Procedures, the University will take steps to protect the complainant from further discrimination or harassment. This may include issuing a no-contact order between the parties, assisting and allowing the complainant to change his or her academic, transportation, work, or living situation if options to do so are reasonably available. Such changes may be available regardless of whether an investigation has begun, or a finding has been made.

Legal Orders: If either party has obtained an order of protection, temporary restraining order, other no-contact order against the other party, the information should be provided to the Title IX Coordinator, Dean of Student Affairs, or campus manager. The University will then take all reasonable and legal action to implement the order.

Policy Against Retaliation: it is a violation of this policy to retaliate against any member of the University Community who reports or assists in making a complaint of sexual misconduct or who participates in the investigation of a complaint in any way. Person who believe they have been retaliated against in violation of this policy should make a complaint in the manner set forth in this Policy. Complaints of retaliation will be handled as a matter separate from the Sexual Misconduct Complaint and will be sanctioned as a separate policy violation.

Bad Faith Complaints: While the University encourages all good faith complaints of sexual misconduct, the University has the responsibility to balance the rights of all parties. Therefore, if the University's investigation reveals that a complaint was knowingly false, the complaint will be dismissed and the person who filed the knowingly false complaint may be subject to discipline.

Investigation and Confidentiality

All complaints of sexual misconduct will be promptly and thoroughly investigated in accordance with the Complaint Resolution Procedures, and the University will take disciplinary action where appropriate. The University will make reasonable and appropriate efforts to preserve an individual's privacy and protect the confidentiality of information when investigating and resolving a complaint as it applies to both complainant and respondent.

However, because of laws relating to reporting and other state and federal laws, the University cannot guarantee confidentiality to those who make complaints. In the event a complainant requests confidentially or asks that a complaint not be investigated, the University will take all reasonable steps to investigate and respond to the complaint consistent with the request for confidentially or request not to pursue an investigation. If a complainant insists that his or her name not be disclosed to the alleged perpetrator, the University's ability to respond may be limited. The University reserves the right to initiate an investigation despite a complainant's request for confidentiality in limited circumstances involving serious or repeated conduct or where the alleged perpetrator may pose a continuing threat to the University Community. The Title IX Coordinator is the person responsible for evaluating requests for confidentiality.

COMPLAINT RESOLUTION PROCEDURES

General Principle

- A. Applicability

These Complaint Resolution Procedures apply to the resolution of all reports under the Sexual Misconduct Policy. They apply to the resolution of complaints against students, faculty, administrators, staff, and third parties, and they are the exclusive means of resolving complaints of sexual misconduct.
- B. Administration and Training

For purposes of administering this policy:

  1. "Investigating Officer" means the person or persons appointed by the Title IX Coordinator to conduct a formal investigation of a Title IX report. The Investigating Officers are selected from a group of employees selected by the Title IX Coordinator in consultation with the Executive Vice President & Chief Financial Officer and the Director of Human Resources. The Investigating Officer(s) shall have responsibility for administering these complain resolution procedures. At their discretion, the Title IX Coordinator may appoint multiple Investigating Officers to work together in administering these complaint resolution procedures. Depending on the circumstances, one or two investigators may be appointed to a particular situation.
  2. The Investigating Officers are trained on an annual basis and are provided supplemental training material that is available at all times. They are trained on issues related to sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. They are also trained on how to conduct an investigation and the process that protects the safety of victims and promotes accountability.
- C. Promptness, Fairness, and Impartiality

These procedures provide for prompt, fair, and impartial investigations and resolutions. The Investigating Officer shall discharge his or her obligations under these procedures fairly and impartially. If the Investigating Officer determines that he or she cannot apply thee procedures fairly and impartially because of the identity of a complainant, respondent, or witness, or due to any other conflict of interest, the Investigating Officer shall inform the Title IX Coordinator so that another appropriate individual can be designated to administer these procedures.

Investigation and Resolution of the Complaint

1. Timing of the Investigation

The University will endeavor to conclude its investigation and resolution of the complaint within sixty (60) calendar days of receiving it. Both the complainant and the respondent will be given periodic updates regarding the status of the investigation. If either the complainant or respondent needs additional time to prepare or to gather their witnesses or information, they shall notify the Investigating Officer in writing explaining how much additional time is needed and why it is needed. The Investigating Officer shall respond to any such request within three (3) days.

2. Preliminary Inquiry

Following receipt of notice or a report of misconduct, the Title IX Coordinator engages in a preliminary inquiry to determine if there is reasonable cause to believe the Sexual Misconduct Policy has been violated. The preliminary inquiry is typically 1-3 days in duration. This inquiry may also serve to help the Title IX Coordinator to determine if the allegations evidence violence, threat, pattern, predation and/or weapon, in the event that the reporting party has asked for no action to be taken. In any case where violence, threat, pattern, predation, and/or weapon is not evidenced, the Title IX Coordinator may respect a reporting party's request for no action, and will investigate only so far as necessary to determine appropriate remedies. As necessary, Ottawa University, reserves the right to initiate resolution proceedings without a formal report or participation by the reporting party.

In cases where the reporting party wishes to proceed, or Ottawa University determines it must proceed, and the preliminary inquiry shows that reasonable cause exists, the Title IX Coordinator will direct a formal investigation to commence and the allegation will be resolved through the process as stated in these Resolution Procedures. If, during the preliminary inquiry or at any point during the formal investigation, the Title IX Coordinator determines that there is no reasonable cause to believe that policy has been violated, the process will end unless the reporting party requests that the Title IX Coordinator makes an extraordinary determination to re-open the investigation. This decision lies in the sole discretion of the Title IX Coordinator.

3. Informal Resolution

Informal means of resolution, such as mediation, may be used in lieu of the formal investigation and determination procedure. However, informal means may only be used with the complainant's voluntary cooperation and the involvement of the Title IX Coordinator. The complainant, however, will not be required to work out the problem directly with the respondent. Moreover, the complainant may terminate any such informal means at any time. In any event, informal means, even on a voluntary basis, will not be used to resolve complaints alleging any form of sexual violence.

4. Interim Measures

At any time during the investigation, the Investigating Officer, in coordination with the Title IX Coordinator, may determine that interim remedies or protections for the parties involved or witnesses are appropriate. These interim remedies may include separating the parties, placing limitations on contact between the parties, suspension, or making alternative class-placement or workplace arrangements. Failure to comply with the terms of these interim remedies or protections may constitute a separate violation of the Sexual Misconduct Policy.

5. Support Person

During the investigation process, both a complainant and a respondent may ask a support person to accompany him or her at all stages of the process. In cases involving multiple complainants or respondents, the support person cannot be another complainant or respondent. The support person does not serve as an advocate on behalf of the complainant or respondent, may not be actively involved in any proceedings, and he or she must agree to maintain the confidentiality of the process.

6. Pending Criminal Investigation

Some instances of sexual misconduct may also constitute criminal conduct. In such instances, the complainant is also encouraged to file a report with the appropriate law enforcement authorities and, if requested, the University will assist the complainant in doing so. The pendency of a criminal investigation, however, does not relieve the University of its responsibilities under Title IX. Therefore, to the extent doing so does not interfere with any criminal investigation, the University will proceed with its own investigation and resolution of the complaint.

7. Rights of the Parties

During the investigation and resolution of a complaint, the complainant and respondent shall have equal rights. They include:

- Equal opportunity to identify and have considered witnesses and other relevant evidence;
- Similar and timely access to all information considered by the Investigating Officer;
- Equal opportunity to review any statements or evidence provided by the other party; and
- Equal access to review and comment upon any information independently developed by the Investigating Officer.

8. Commencement of the Investigation

Once a complaint is made, the Investigating Officer will commence an investigation of it as soon as practicable, but not later than seven (7) days after the complaint is made. The purpose of the investigation is to determine whether it is more likely than not that the alleged behavior occurred and, if so, whether it constitutes sexual misconduct. During the course of the investigation, the Investigating Officer may receive counsel from University administrators, the University's attorneys, the Title IX Coordinator, or other parties as needed.

9. Content of the Investigation

During the investigation, the complainant will have the opportunity to describe his or her allegations and present supporting witnesses or other evidence. The respondent will have an opportunity to respond to the allegations and present supporting witnesses or other evidence. The Investigating Officer will review the statements and evidence presented and may, depending on the circumstances, interview others with relevant knowledge, review documentary materials, and take other appropriate action to gather and consider information relevant to the complaint. All parties and witnesses involved in the investigation are expected to cooperate and provide complete and truthful information.

10. Resolution (including Sanctions) of Complaints Against Student Respondents

At the conclusion of the Investigating Officer's investigation, the Investigating Officer will prepare a draft written report. The report will explain the scope of the investigation and identify findings of fact. The Investigating Officer will present the report to the Title IX Coordinator who will review the draft, revise as necessary, and finalize.

If the final written report finds that any allegations in the complaint were found to be substantiated by a preponderance of the evidence resulting in a policy violation, the Title IX Coordinator will consult with the Provost/Dean with jurisdiction over the complainant and respondent to determine discipline and remedial measures. The Title IX Coordinator will prepare an addendum setting forth the discipline and remedial measures. Examples of such measures include: no-contact orders, classroom reassignment, the provision of counseling or other support services, suspension of campus activities, educational programming and training, and discipline for the perpetrator including up to probation, suspension in abeyance, suspension, expulsion, and other appropriate institutional sanctions. This document will explain the scope of the investigation, identify findings of fact (if any), and state whether any allegations in the complaint were found to be substantiated by a preponderance of the evidence resulting in a policy violation.

The final written determination shall be final subject only to the right of appeal set forth in this policy, below.

11. Resolution (including Sanctions) of Complaints Against Employee, Faculty, and Third-Party Respondents

At the conclusion of an Investigating Officer's investigation, the Investigating Officer will prepare a draft written report. The report will explain the scope of the investigation and identify findings of fact. The Investigating Officer will present the report to the Title IX Coordinator, and the Title IX Coordinator will review the draft, revise as necessary, and finalize it.

If the final written report finds that any allegations in the complaint were found to be substantiated by a preponderance of the evidence resulting in a policy violation, the Title IX Coordinator will consult with the University administrator with jurisdiction of the complainant and respondent to determine discipline and remedial measures. The Title IX Coordinator will prepare an addendum setting forth the discipline and remedial measures. Examples of sanctions may include: no-contact orders, classroom reassignment, the provision of counseling or other support services, referral to the EAP program, training, discipline for the perpetrator including up to probationary status, termination, and other appropriate institutional sanctions. Discipline may be directly imposed for, in cases with faculty member respondents, a referral may be made for further proceedings in accordance with faculty discipline proceedings.

The Title IX Coordinator will notify the parties of the outcome in writing as described below.

12. Notification of Outcome

The Title IX Coordinator will provide written notification of the outcome of the investigation and any addendum to the complainant and the respondent within three (3) days of its completion. If necessary, the version of the addendum provided to the complainant and/or respondent will be redacted to ensure that information concerning any remedial and/or disciplinary measures is disclosed in a manner consistent with Title IX, the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), and the Clery Act.

13. Special Procedure for Complaints Against the Chancellor, the Title IX Coordinator, or Other Administrators Ranked Higher than the Title IX Coordinator.

If a complaint involves alleged conduct on the part of the University's Chancellor, the University's Board of Trustees will designate the Investigating Officer(s). Based on the information gathered by the investigation, Trustees will prepare and issue the written report determining the complaint. The determination of the Board of Trustees is final and not subject to appeal. If a complaint involves alleged conduct on the part of the Title IX Coordinator, a Vice President of the University, or the University Provost, the University's Chancellor will designate the Investigating Officer(s). Based on the information gathered by the investigation, the Chancellor will prepare and issue the written report determining the complaint. The determination of the Chancellor is final and not subject to appeal.

The Investigating Officers may be chosen from outside sources.

14. Withdrawal or Resignation While Charges Pending

Students: Ottawa University does not permit a student to withdraw if that student has an allegation pending for violation of the Sexual Misconduct Policy. Should a student decide to leave and/or not participate in the investigation, the process will nonetheless proceed in the student's absence to a reasonable resolution and that student will not be permitted to return to Ottawa University unless all sanctions have been satisfied. The student will not have access to an official academic transcript until the allegations have been resolved.

Employees: Should an employee resign with unresolved allegations pending, the records of the Title IX Coordinator will reflect that status, and any Ottawa University responses to future inquiries regarding employment references for that individual will indicate the former employee is ineligible for rehire.

APPEALS

Either party may appeal the final determination (finding of violation or severity of sanction).

Grounds for Appeal

The complainant or respondent may appeal the determination of a complaint only on the following grounds:

- There is a substantial likelihood that newly discovered information not available at the time evidence was presented to the Investigating Officer would result in a different decision;
- There was a procedural error significant enough to call the outcome into question;
- There was a clear error in factual findings;
- Bias or prejudice on the part of the Investigating Office; or
- The punishment or the corrective action imposed is disproportionate to the offense.

Method of Appeal

Either party may appeal the final outcome determination. The appeal is submitted to the following parties, depending on the identity of the respondent:

- Appeals from complaints that allege a student or faculty have committed sexual misconduct shall be directed to the University Provost, Dr. Terry Haines.
- Appeals from complaints that allege an employee or third-party has committed sexual misconduct shall be directed to the Executive Vice President/Chief Financial Officer, Clark Ribordy.

The official to which the appeals are submitted (i.e., the University Provost or the Executive Vice President/Chief Financial Officer) shall be referred to as "Appeals Officials". The appeal must be filed within ten (10) days of receipt of the written report determining the outcome of the complaint. The appeal must be in writing and contain the following:

- Name of complainant;
- Name of respondent;
- A statement of the determination of the complaint, including corrective action if any;
- A detailed statement of the basis for the appeal including the specific facts, circumstances, and argument in support of it; and
- Requested action, if any.

The appellant may request a meeting with the appropriate Appeal Official, but the decision to grant a meeting is within the Appeal Official's discretion. However, if a meeting is granted, then the other party will be granted a similar opportunity.

Resolution of Appeal

The Appeal Official will resolve the appeal within fifteen (15) days of receiving it and may take any and all actions that he/she determines to be in the interest of a fair and just decision. The decision of the Appeal Official is final. The Appeal Official shall issue a short and plain, written statement of the resolution of the appeal, including any changes made to the Title IX Coordinator's previous written determination. The written statement shall be provided to the complainant, respondent, and the Title IX Coordinator within three (3) days of the resolution. In some cases involving faculty member respondents, the discipline imposed may result in additional process following the appeal.

Documentation

Throughout all stages of the investigation, resolution, and appeal, the Investigating Officer, the Title IX Coordinator, and the Appeal Officials as the case may be, are responsible for maintaining documentation of the investigation and appeal, including documentation of all proceedings conducted under these complaint resolution procedures, which may include written findings of fact, transcripts, and audio procedures.

Intersection with Other Procedures

These complaint resolution procedures are the exclusive means of resolving complaints alleging violations of the Sexual Misconduct Policy. To the extent that there are any inconsistencies between these complaint resolution procedures and other University grievance, complaint, or discipline procedures, these complaint resolution procedures will control resolution of complaints alleging violations of the Sexual Misconduct Policy.

APPENDIX B Alcohol and Other Drug Policy

APPENDIX B: Alcohol and Other Drug Policy (U-wide)

ALCOHOL AND OTHER DRUG POLICY

The alcohol policy for Ottawa University is in compliance with the laws of the states of Arizona, Indiana, Kansas, and Wisconsin. Students who fail to comply with the policies are subject to disciplinary action.

The alcohol policy at Ottawa University is based upon the recognition that:

1. The majority of the undergraduate student at the residential campuses cannot legally consume alcohol;
2. A number of students who are of legal age to consume or possess alcohol choose not to do so; and,
3. Alcohol abuse on college campuses across the nation can be problematic.

Ottawa University recognizes that abuse of alcohol and other drugs is a problem on our nation's campuses. Ottawa University condemns excessive consumption of alcohol. The University also considers the decision of whether to consume alcohol to be a value judgment on the part of each individual of legal age. All University-housing units on the residential campuses are dry, substance-free buildings. Some off campus University and University-sponsored housing options permit alcohol consumption with limitations for students of legal drinking age (reference your campus section for details).

ALCOHOL IS PROHIBITED ON CAMPUS

Alcohol is prohibited on Ottawa University campuses. Exceptions to this policy may be authorized by the campus Provost/President or Dean of Student Affairs after review of specific situations, which present unique circumstances. Committing a city and/or state crime also constitutes a University violation.

1. All Ottawa University community members are expected to abide by any and all city, state, and federal laws, in addition to the policies specific to Ottawa University.
2. Possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages by an individual who is under 21 is a violation of policy and city and state law.
3. Use of false identification to justify underage possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages is a violation of policy.
4. Furnishing alcoholic beverages to a minor is a violation of policy. It is also a criminal violation of city and state law.
5. Hosting an event where alcohol is consumed by minors is a violation of policy. It is also a criminal violation of city and state law.
6. Abusive or disruptive behavior related to the use/abuse of alcohol or beer (alcoholic beverages) will not be tolerated on or off campus.
7. Paraphernalia related to alcohol consumption, including, but not limited to beer bong, beverage containers, funnels, keg taps, bottle caps, etc. are prohibited in/on University and University-sponsored properties.
8. Organizations that receive budgetary support from the University, or organizations that solicit funds for the purpose of college activities are not allowed to use the funds to purchase alcoholic beverages.
9. Ottawa University reserves the right to report any incident of possible legal violation to law enforcement officials.
10. Alcohol policy violations are cumulative during a student's enrollment tenure at Ottawa University.

ILLEGAL DRUGS ARE PROHIBITED ON CAMPUS

Students who are involved with drugs are encouraged to seek assistance through the University's Student Health and Counseling Services or our community professional partners. These services are confidential. Ottawa University will not tolerate unlawful possession, use, manufacture, distribution, or dispensing of illegal substances in or on property controlled by Ottawa University or at University-sponsored events or programs. Drug paraphernalia and water pipes are also prohibited. Examples of violations include:

- Misuse of over-the-counter drugs

- Misuse or sharing of prescription drugs
- Possessing, using, being under the influence of, distributing, or manufacturing any form of illegal drug
- Possessing paraphernalia (i.e. rolling papers, pipes, bong, etc.) for intended or implied use of any form of illegal drug
- Possessing paraphernalia that contains or appears to contain illegal drug residue
- Purchasing or passing illegal drugs from one person to another
- Using mail services to purchase, pass, or distribute illegal drugs

Students found responsible for possession, use, or distribution of illegal drugs will face appropriate disciplinary action including but limited to separation from the University. Ottawa University is a partner with the local community law enforcement and does not provide immunity or protection from prosecution by local authorities. This policy provides flexibility for the University in addressing drug-related offenses which occur on or off campus. The focus of the policy is to ensure that students are engaging in behaviors that will lead to successful completion of their academic goals, and to that end, the University also considers any violations relative to illegal drugs a major offense that may be referred to local law enforcement.

SAFE HARBOR

The University seeks to empower students with addiction problems to seek assistance. A safe harbor rule exists at Ottawa University to assist students in obtaining the resources necessary to overcome addiction issues. If any University student brings their own use, addiction, or dependency to the attention of a University official outside the threat of drug tests or imposition of the conduct process and seeks assistance, a student conduct complaint will not be pursued. A written action plan may be used to track cooperation with the Safe Harbor program by the student. Failure to follow the action plan will nullify the Safe Harbor protection and the campus conduct process will be initiated.

GOOD SAMARITAN CLAUSE

Any student who seeks assistance for him/herself or another student from Campus Security, Residence Life, or professional medical personnel, for intoxication or overdose shall not be subject to formal Conduct System.

This refers to isolated incidents only and does not excuse or protect those who flagrantly and/or repeatedly violate the Ottawa University alcohol policy. It applies only to cases of suspected extreme intoxication or other life-threatening circumstances due to alcohol and does not extend to related infractions such as assault or property damage. Although formal disciplinary action may not be invoked, mandatory referrals for educational sessions and/or assessment at the student's own expense may be made.

VIOLATION OF LAW AND UNIVERSITY DISCIPLINE

1. University conduct proceedings may be instituted against a student charged with conduct that potentially violates both the criminal law and this Student Code, if both possible violations result from the same factual situation, without regard to the pendency of civil or criminal litigation in court or criminal arrest and prosecution. Proceedings under this Code may be carried out prior to, simultaneously with, or following civil or criminal proceedings off campus at the discretion of the Student Conduct Administrator. Determinations made or sanctions imposed under this Code shall not be subject to change because criminal charges arising out of the same facts giving rise to violation of University rules were dismissed, reduced, or resolved in favor of or against the criminal law defendant.
2. When a student is charged by federal, state, or local authorities with a violation of law, the University will not request or agree to special consideration for that individual based on his/her status as a student. If the alleged offense is also being processed under the Student Code, the University may advise off-campus authorities of the existence of the Student Code and of how such matters are typically handled with the University community. The University will attempt to cooperate with law enforcement and other agencies in the enforcement of criminal law on campus and in the conditions imposed by criminal courts for the rehabilitation of student violators provided that the conditions do not conflict with campus policies or sanctions. Individual students and other members of the University community, acting in their personal capacities, remain free to interact with governmental representatives as they deem appropriate.

FURTHER CONSIDERATIONS REGARDING VIOLATIONS

1. In the absence of clear mitigating circumstances (resident away for the evening, etc.), all residents of the room/suite in which an Alcohol and Other Drug Policy violation occurs will be charged with a violation.
2. Violations of this policy by individuals or groups will be referred to the Office of Student Affairs. The University conduct process will apply. All violations of this policy are cumulative and carry over throughout a student's career at Ottawa University. The degree of sanctioning for a student may depend on a number of factors including but not limited to the level of the violation, any mitigating factors regarding the incident, and the number and type of past violations.
3. Student-athletes are also subject to additional sanctions from the Athletic Department. The Director of Athletics will be notified of any alcohol-related issue/violation.
4. Additional sanctions may be recommended for any level of violation based on the circumstances of each individual incident. These additional sanctions may include but are not limited to:

APPENDIX C

Drug and Alcohol Abuse Prevention Policy

Required by Drug-free Workplace and Drug-free Schools and Communities Acts

APP. C: Drug/Alcohol Abuse Prevention Policy (U-wide)

DRUG AND ALCOHOL ABUSE PREVENTION POLICY

INTRODUCTION

Ottawa University is committed to providing a safe, healthy learning community for all its members. The University recognizes that the improper and excessive use of alcohol and other drugs may interfere with the University's mission by negatively affecting the health and safety of students, faculty and staff. Problems such as vandalism, assault, harassment, sexual misconduct, and disruption of sleep and study space increase in relation to misuse. It is due to the harm caused by excessive and illegal use that the University has a vested interest in establishing policies to prohibit unlawful behavior and sanctions to address policy violations by members of the University community.

Under the Drug-free Workplace Act and the Drug-free Schools and Communities Act, the University is required to have an alcohol and other drug policy and distribute this policy annually to all employees and students. This Policy must outline the University's prevention, education and intervention efforts, and consequences that may be applied by both the University and external authorities for policy violations. The law also requires that individuals be notified of possible health risks associated with the use and abuse of alcohol and other drugs, and sources of assistance for problems that may arise as a result of use.

UNIVERSITY ALCOHOL AND OTHER DRUG POLICY

For the purpose of this Policy, the term "drug" includes:

1. controlled substances, as defined in 21 USC 802, which cannot be legally obtained
2. legally obtainable controlled substances which were not legally obtained, including:
  - o Prescribed drugs when prescription is no longer valid (e.g. use of medication after a course of treatment is completed);
  - o Prescribed drugs used contrary to the prescription;
  - o Prescribed drugs issued to another person.

All members of the campus community also are governed by laws, regulations and ordinances established by the state and local municipalities, and will be held accountable by law enforcement representatives of those entities for any illegal activity. It is the responsibility of all campus members to be aware of these laws.

Kansas, Wisconsin, Indiana, and Arizona law prohibits the dispensing, selling or supplying of drugs or alcoholic beverages to a person under 21 years old. Employees, students, faculty and campus visitors may not unlawfully manufacture, consume, possess, sell, distribute, transfer or be under the influence of alcohol, illicit drugs or controlled substances on University property, while driving a University vehicle or while otherwise engaged in University business. University property, as defined in this Policy, includes all buildings and land owned, leased, or used by the University, and motor vehicles operated by employees, including personal motor vehicles, when used in connection with work performed for or on behalf of the University unless exempted by the Board.

Any person taking prescription drugs or over-the-counter medication is personally responsible for ensuring that while taking such drugs or medications, he or she is not a safety risk to themselves and others while on University property, while driving a University or privately owned vehicle, or while otherwise engaged in University business. It is illegal to misuse prescription medication, i.e. continue to use medication when the prescription is no longer valid, use prescribed drugs contrary to the prescription, and give or sell prescribed drugs to another person. Misusing prescription drugs can result in conviction with jail time. The specific details of the University Alcohol and Other Drug Policy can be found in Appendix B of the Student Handbook.

ALCOHOL PREVENTION PROGRAMS

The University has developed a program to prevent the illicit use of drugs and the abuse of alcohol by students and employees. The program provides services related to drug use and abuse including dissemination of informational materials, educational programs, counseling services, referrals and college disciplinary actions.

The Office of Student Affairs provides overall coordination of student-focused drug and alcohol prevention programs. The Office of Human Resources focuses on staff and faculty. Many services are provided collaboratively by various departments within the University.

UNIVERSITY SANCTIONS

The use or abuse of alcohol and other drugs also increases the risks for behavioral and social problems such as negative effects on academic work performance; conflicts with co-workers, classmates, family, friends and others; conduct problems resulting in disciplinary action, including loss of employment or dismissal from an academic program; and legal problems resulting in ticketing, fines and imprisonment.

The laws of the state of Arizona, Kansas, and Wisconsin, and the University's policies prohibit the consumption or possession for personal consumption of alcoholic beverages by persons under the age of 21 years. Further, they also prohibit the sale, service or giving of alcoholic beverages to persons under the age of 21. University policies, local ordinances, state laws and federal laws also prohibit the unlawful possession, use and/or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol.

Violation of University policies will be subject to campus disciplinary review and action, as follows:

- Students
The University community has established expectations for nonacademic student conduct under the Alcohol and Other Drug Policy in Appendix B of the Student Handbook that specifically addresses the illicit use of alcohol and other drugs.
- Staff and Faculty
Sanctions for violations by faculty and staff are governed by the Employment Policies Handbook. Appropriate sanctions may include: verbal or written warnings, a mandated rehabilitation program, probation, suspension, and termination. In each case, there are likely to be different circumstances that are relevant for understanding the situation and determining the appropriate sanction.

The following behaviors contradict the values of the University community and are subject to action under this policy:

APP. C: Drug/Alcohol Abuse Prevention Policy (U-wide)

- Illegally possessing or using alcohol and drugs
- Illegally distributing, manufacturing, or selling alcohol and drugs
- Disruptive or disrespectful behavior, property damage or personal harassment as a consequence of using alcohol or drugs

The policy is administered by University and campus administration. At the residential campuses, it is administered by the Office of Student Affairs. These designees are charged with facilitating the resolution process used to determine responsibility. Administration/staff work with parties to determine appropriate educational measures and sanctions. These measures cover a wide range of educational assignments and obligations, including but not limited to counseling (on- or off-campus), community service, probation, suspension, or expulsion.

EXTERNAL SANCTIONS

Violations of laws and ordinances may result in misdemeanor or felony convictions accompanied by the imposition of legal sanctions, which include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Fines as determined under local, state, or federal laws;
- Imprisonment, including up to life imprisonment, for possession or trafficking in drugs such as heroin, cocaine, marijuana and prescription drugs;
- Forfeiture of personal and real property; /
- Denial of federal benefits such as grants, contracts and student loans;
- Loss of driving privileges;
- Required attendance at substance abuse education or treatment programs.

State Laws

The following State laws for Arizona, Kansas, and Wisconsin are not inclusive of drug and alcohol violations and sanctions and are listed here only as a reference for the most common drug and alcohol violations. This list is not provided as legal advice.

Arizona

Alcohol

Under state law, it is illegal for anyone under the age of 21 to purchase, consume or possess, or have any bodily content of alcohol. A first-time conviction may result in a fine, substance abuse education and treatment, community service and court-ordered drug screenings. There also is a provision for possible imprisonment or probation for a second or subsequent offense. Use of false identification by minors in obtaining alcohol is punishable with a fine, loss of driver's license, probation and community service.

Individuals can be arrested and/or convicted of operating a vehicle while intoxicated with a blood alcohol concentration (BAC) level at .08 or higher. If a student is under 21, there is a "zero tolerance" law in the state of Arizona and any blood alcohol level of .01 or higher can lead to a minor in possession (MIP) citation as well as being cited for operating a vehicle while intoxicated, if applicable. This is in addition to suspension of driving privileges in the state of Arizona. State law requires drivers who are arrested by the police for a suspected violation of this law to submit to scientific tests that determine the amount of alcohol and/or drugs in their blood. Those who refuse will automatically lose their driving privilege in Arizona for 1 year.

Marijuana

Although the use of medical marijuana is legal in the state of Arizona with a valid state issued medical marijuana card, the possession of any amount of marijuana on the University campus, including University housing and University-sponsored housing, is a criminal violation and is subject to criminal prosecution, regardless of whether the possessor has a medical marijuana card or not.
