As a result of U.S. federal rules and regulations for institutions of higher education, Ottawa University employs a zero-tolerance compliance policy. Additionally, international students are expected to maintain standards per their U.S. issued visa. A student who fails to comply with academic, attendance, payment, Curricular Practical Training (CPT), and other policies as outlined, will be dismissed from the Executive MBA program and employers will be notified immediately of the student's failure to remain in legal status.
